SIX ELECTION OFFICIALS INDICTED FOR FRAUD IN PRIMARY

FURTHER CHARGES OF 'IRREGULARITIES' IN SHIPPING DEALS

Witness Says Vessels Were Allocated to Corporations and Individuals Who Had No Financial Standing.

SHIPS TAKEN FROM ESTABLISHED LINES

Turned Over to Companies in Which Relatives of Members of Board Were Interested, It Is Stated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Individuals and corporations of no financial standing and no experience in maritime affairs have been allocated United States Shipping Board vessels for operation, J. F. Richardson testified today when the Walsh congressional committee resumed its investigation of alleged irregularities in Shipping Board affairs.

Richardson, who is secretary and statistician to the Walsh committee, and who in this capacity conducted an investigation of facts regarding the board's operating methods, his findings having been made public at Washington last night, declared that irresponsible individuals were favored while established steamship companies complained of inability to secure any tonnage whatever from the Government.

Relatives' Companies Favored.
Such allocation, the witness asserted, has been performed at will by a "director of operations" under the Shipping Board who "commanded" vessels from established steamship lines and reallocated them to private companies. Ships, he said, had been turned over to companies in which relatives of men connected with the Shipping Board were financially interested.

The competence of applicants for ships, Richardson stated, was investigated only through facilities provided by financial agencies. He added that those who have purchased outright vessels from the board have complained they cannot compete with companies financed and equipped by the Shipping Board. Others, he said, felt they had cause for dissatisfaction when the board took back and reallocated vessels turned over to them.

"The statement has been made," he said, "that out of 200 to which ships have been allocated, there are so many irresponsible companies that the list must be cut in half."
One of the gravest defects in the board's system, Richardson said, was the lack of foreign agents which, on occasions, has made it necessary for super-cargoes on its vessels to go out and solicit freight so that the ship might not be compelled to return to its home port in ballast.

No Reciprocal Agreements.
He criticized the failure to establish reciprocal working agreements with other agents through which ships might be kept busy, adding:
"There are instances where an operator with cargo enough for a haul on ships has but one vessel or two, while other agents at the same time may be keeping ships idle for lack of cargoes."

The recent creation of the United States Shipping Board, the witness charged, was an "entirely unnecessary."

PREACHES A SNAPPY LITTLE
SERMON AT WIFE'S FUNERAL

German Smilingly Says He Has No Cause to Grieve, as Helpmeet Has Entered Wider Life.
BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Wide-eyed mourners listened in amazement to Oberda's brief, grand, exalted sermon of the Order of Dadas, a literary society which believes the drama ought to be made more simple, when he recently preached a funeral sermon over the body of his wife. Smilingly the Oberda walked up to the coffin and in a bright and snappy little speech explained he had no occasion to grieve. Death, he said, was merely a matter of expansion, and he felt quite confident his wife was in a "wider life."

At the conclusion of his sermon the Oberda made a cheerful exit.

CRIMEA REPORTED PENETRATED

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Penetration of the Crimean peninsula is contained in the Soviet official statement of Tuesday received here today by wire.

Two-Minute Silence
at 1 P. M. Tomorrow,
Armistice Day

A TWO-MINUTE cessation of all activities in St. Louis, beginning at 1 p. m. tomorrow, is planned as a feature of Armistice day anniversary observance. It has been urged in a proclamation by Mayor Kiel and endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

It is expected that in this period all vehicles and machinery will be stopped while silent prayer is offered for those who lost their lives in the war. There will be an Armistice day celebration at the Planters Hotel, beginning at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow, under the auspices of the Red Cross, the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce, with a luncheon at which Col. S. B. Philpot, battle commander of the Fourth United States Infantry, will be the principal speaker.

At this luncheon Father Thomas D. Kennedy, former chaplain of the Thirty-fifth Division and American Legion chaplain, will deliver a prayer for the soldier dead in the two-minute period starting at 1 p. m.

SENATE BATH HOUSE
BEING MADE READY FOR NEW CONGRESS

Equipment Installed in New
Senate Office Building 8 Years Ago, but Never Used.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Gracero-Roman baths of the United States Senate, installed nearly eight years ago, but never put into service, are now being cleared of the cobwebs and stains of time, and will be in shape to offer their luxuries of steam, plunge, shower and electricity to the members of the new Senate when it assembles.

Charges of less elegance were aimed at the baths in congressional debate when the power of administration last swung from Republican to Democratic, and, as a result, the baths, installed in the then new Senate office building, were shorn of their expensive equipment, bereft of their attendants and left to gloom. The marble slabs, Turkish rugs and steam-proof tables and chairs were turned over to the Government hospital, and only the marble shells and nickel fittings left in place.

Now, however, the baths are coming back, but under a new plan members of the Senate themselves will pay a large part of the operating expenses, and a special unofficial committee has taken charge of the assessments, which will be levied against each user in proportion to the service he exacts. The baths will be open to less gorgeous than the original plan anticipated.

Sensors feel that the waste of letting the equipment lie dormant is as great as any expense that may be encountered in putting it into service.

GOVERNMENT WOULD EXPEDITE
NEWBERRY CASE APPEAL

Solicitor General to Ask Supreme Court to Advance Date of Hearing.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Solicitor General Frierson said today that he would ask the Supreme Court next Monday to advance the date of hearing the appeal of Senator Newberry and others in the Michigan election cases.

DEMOCRATS AT WORK ON A PLAN OF REORGANIZATION

Conferences Held at Washington Looking to Selection of Chairman Who Can Give All His Time to Work.

FACTIONAL DISPUTES WOULD BE AVOIDED

No Discussion of Candidacies Would Be Permitted Until Time Arrived for Selecting Delegates.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Leaders of the Democratic party have practically agreed upon a course of action looking to the capture of both houses of Congress in 1924. Far from being dismayed by the overwhelming defeat suffered at the polls last week, the Democratic leaders have jumped back into the fight with fresh spirit. The principles on which the reorganization of the party will be based are these:

1. The selection of national chairman of an organizer who will for the next four years give his whole time to the making of organizations in every State, county and city in the United States. Wherever there are no Democratic organizations, new ones will be started.

2. An effort to get unanimous agreement upon the man who is to do the organizing so as to remove at the outset any traces of factionalism.

3. The new chairman must be a man who has not been actively identified with any of the different factions—he must be on friendly terms with the Cox people, the friends of Palmer, the followers of McAdoo and Wilson and be skillful enough to attract friends of Mr. Bryan and western Democrats.

4. All talk of candidacies for 1924 is strictly taboo. The effort is to keep factionalism outside the door until the next national convention requires its introduction.

5. Leaf Out of G. O. P. Book.

In these principles the Democrats have taken a leaf out of the Republican book. All the talk about a new leader for the Democrats, all the suggestion about Mr. Bryan or Mr. McAdoo or Mr. Cox, all the leadership are being frowned upon. For the Republicans haven't had an outstanding leader but simply a good organization and a good organizer—Will Hays. It was Hays' method to travel about the country and keep things harmonious. He gave the impression for a long time that he wasn't interested in any candidacy of "booms" but merely in Republican solidarity. He got that solidarity. How long it will endure depends now on Warren G. Harding. The job of Hays is done.

So the Democrats who have been in conference informally here in the last few days have come to the conclusion that the wisest thing to do now is to reorganize the party and get everybody in it working together for Democratic success next time.

Speaking of the spirit of the Democrats, they do not regard the defeat as a slap at the League of Nations, but merely as the natural reaction of the American people to their war government, a reaction parallel to the political overturning of other governments in Europe. Indeed, the Democrats have not the slightest intention of abandoning the League of Nations as an issue. They mean to keep it alive and fight for that during the next four years. They plan to keep intact the movement of Republicans and Democrats who, under Prof. Irving Fisher, constituted an independent pro-league organization.

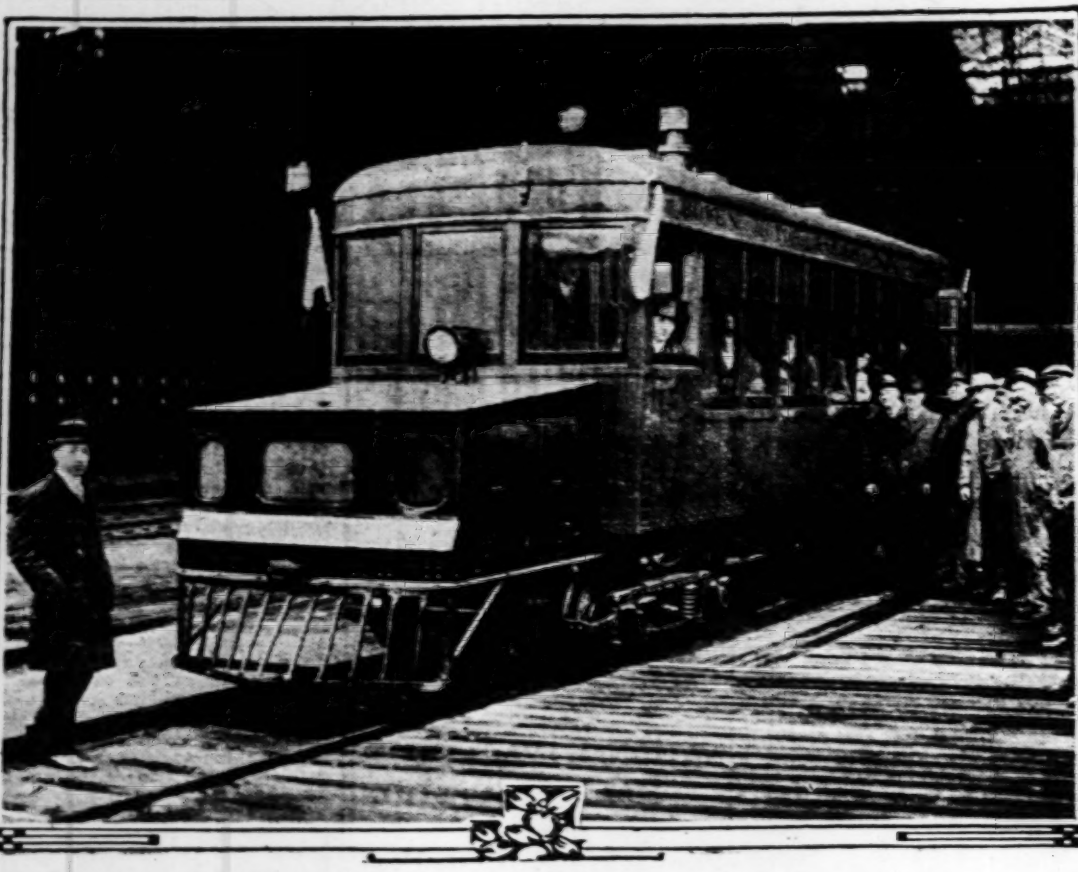

The Democrats are joyful for another reason. They couldn't get much money during the early days of the campaign and didn't begin to get funds in any quantity until the last part of September, but checks kept flowing in, even after election, and the confident prediction is made by the leaders that the deficit, estimated at between $200,000 and $300,000, will soon be collected and a new fund for reorganization provided.

Underwood Leader in Congress.

As for leadership, the prospect is that Senator Underwood will be the real leader in Congress. And he is a man who believes in caucus and his own views. He gave an example of leadership in the days just before Democratic success in 1912 and won prestige enough to be regarded as a presidential possibility. He is personally popular and will have little difficulty in getting co-operation.

Outside of the halls of Congress the question of leadership of a defeated party is more or less abstract. Woodrow Wilson himself has a few things to say in what just as Theodore Roosevelt used to do and probably the influence of Mr. Wilson will not be without considerable effect. The party of one gun bombarding the Republicans, the Democrats expect to have several. The taxation program of the Republicans will be scrutinized with special care as the effort of the Republicans to cut down the cost of living and bring back Liberty

Gasoline-Driven Railroad Passenger Car That Is Being Tested on St. Louis Suburban Runs

RAILWAY GASOLINE CAR DEMONSTRATED HERE

New Type Designed to Supplant Branch Line Trains and Interurban Electric Cars.

A car, propelled by gasoline motor and designed to supplant branch line trains and interurban electric cars, is being exhibited and operated here by the Bowen Motor Railways Corporation. Officials of the company say it is the first public demonstration in the United States of a car of its type.

The car is being operated daily from Union Station, traversing the Creve Coeur branch of the Missouri Pacific railroad to Creve Coeur Lake. It is scheduled to make two trips each day, starting at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

A Post-Dispatch reporter, who made the trip yesterday, found that the car not only made better speed than the train operating over the same route, but was comfortable to ride in and passed through the intricate switches at the Union Station much easier and with greater speed than the average train.

The actual running time of the car for the round trip yesterday morning, a distance of 40 miles, was two hours and 34 minutes. About five and a half gallons of gasoline was consumed, which is an average of about seven miles to the gallon.

Fifty-Horsepower Motor.

The propelling force of the car is a 50-horsepower motor, a motor which is slung in front of the body of the car, and has a hood covering similar to that of an automobile. The car has a shaft drive like that of a motor car, the power being conducted to the rear axle.

The car has gears which are shifted by the driver with a lever as those of an automobile. An air-brake adds to the safety of the car, and allows it to be brought to a stop much quicker than a street car or train. The body is like that of a street car, but is shorter than those seen on the streets of St. Louis. It will seat 15 persons, and the engine has enough power so that a trailer can be attached if necessary. Electric lights and hot water heater are part of the equipment.

Alfred D. Bowen is the inventor. The company built a car a year ago for experimental purposes, and it has been run for nine months in Illinois between Yale and Casey. The perfected car being demonstrated here was constructed by the Barney & Smith Car Co., Dayton, O.

Officials of the company state that records of the cost of operation of the experimental car in Illinois show that it costs on an average of about one-fourth as much as a trailer car, and more than one-tenth the cost of operating a train.

The cost of the car is little more than half the cost of a St. Louis street car. The company several months ago purchased a 214-acre site, near Brentwood, where it is planned to erect a plant for the manufacture of the cars.

Bonds to par as pledged in the campaign by President-elect Harding. All this may sound like premature partisanship, but the Democrats have determined not to embarrass the new President in any way, but merely to keep calling the attention of the public to mistakes that may be made. The Democrats feel that the success of America has been party government, and the activity of one political party in always acting as a check on the other. Instead of letting the Republicans have the whole field to themselves without criticism, the Democrats conceive it to be their patriotic duty to play the part of opposition party just as the Republicans did in the last few years. And the curious part of it all is the sublime confidence of the Democrats that they will recapture both houses of Congress within the next two years.

SIX PRIMARY ELECTION OFFICIALS INDICTED ON FRAUD CHARGES

A short time after Miller was arrested, he was taken to the station, where he was held in custody by Henry Haffman, 40, whom they found at the Edible Supply Co., 2334 Olive street, where he is employed.

The third indicted official to be arrested was Jack Palmer, indicted as S. J. Palmer, who was arrested at 1102 Market street, and who gave his occupation as superintendent of one of the night street-cleaning crews, in the employ of a private company which has the contract for that work. He is 49 years old.

Haffman said that as a Republican election judge he had made out the recapitulation sheet which had to be turned in to the Election Board, but that he "didn't just remember" whether he had counted the ballots himself, or whether somebody had called off the figures to him. He said he didn't "recall it that way" when told that Miller had said of the proceedings, but he did not remember clearly enough to tell what did happen.

Palmer said: "I will not make a statement until I know what is the accusation against me. I served as a judge in the Fifth Precinct of the Sixth Ward, and so far as I know everything was O. K. My eyesight is poor, so I took the ballots out of the box. I also watched one of the clerks to see that he tallied correctly. It was the first time that I had served as an election official."

Three Democrats Surrender.

Seitz and Hoagland, Democratic judges, and Vandewater, a Democratic clerk, accompanied by John P. Collins, a former State Senator and now an undertaker on Grand avenue, appeared before Judge Hartmann at 3 p. m. and gave a common law bond in the sum of $1000 each. Hartmann, accepting Collins as surety for all three, they had read in the Post-Dispatch of their indictment and came in voluntarily. They were told that they are answerable at either the October or December terms of court in charges that they will be notified when to appear.

Seitz, when asked for a statement, was pleasant, but remarked that he did not care to say anything about the case at present.

Vandewater said: "Make a statement? I should say not. What do you think I am? A bank robber?"

Hoagland merely shook his head and said: "No neither."

The three were taken to the Municipal Courts building not more than five minutes, leaving with Collins, as soon as their bonds were approved.

Two Wards Canvassed.

The grand jury began its investigation of political matters on Oct. 18, when Judge Hartmann instructed its members to inquire into charges that there had been heavy fraudulent registrations in the Fourth and Fifth wards, Democratic strongholds. These charges first were made by members of the registration subcommittee of the Republican City Committee, and Chairman Getting of the subcommittee took the matter to the Board of Election Commissioners, and it was brought to the attention of Judge Hartmann.

The Election Board made a canvass of lodging houses and rooming places in the two wards, which are known as "river wards," a Democratic clerk and a Republican clerk working together in checking up the registrations. Their information, obtained by private investigation, was made by Chairman Getting and other facts collected by inspectors of Director McKelvey of the Department of Public Safety, were placed before the grand jury.

Investigation into the charges that there had been fraud in the August primary was begun by the grand jury last Monday.

These charges were made back and forth between opposing factions in the Republican party with considerable freedom right after the primary.

Charges of Irregularities.

Charges that there had been miscounting in a number of precincts were made by Edward F. Reganhardt of Cape Girardeau, manager for Dwight F. Davis, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. Senator Spencer, in turn, called attention to lopsided returns in favor of Davis in the South Side wards.

Negroes in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth wards made a bitter effort to overturn some of the Republican selections made in those wards in the primary, alleging that negro candidates had been "counted out" in favor of their white opponents.

In only one case was a contest actually taken to the courts, Robert Claxton contesting the election of J. Joel Wilson, an assistant in the office of Prosecuting Attorney Sidener, as Republican City Commissioner from the Twenty-sixth Ward. The case is still pending.

This case is being considered by the grand jury, which yesterday opened the primary ballot box for the Fifteenth Precinct of the Twenty-sixth Ward, in which Claxton charged that votes cast for him had been counted for Wilson.

VOTE AS SHOWN
IN 5TH PRECINCT
6TH WARD RETURN

The primary returns for the Fifth Precinct of the Sixth Ward, in which six election officials were indicted for making a false count and return, showed the reported vote to be as follows:

On the Republican ticket:

KILLING BY DRY AGENT TO BE TAKEN UP BY GRAND JURY

State's Attorney Streuber of Madison County Says Investigation Will Be Made Next Week.

The killing of Luka Bukovic, 37 years old, an Austrian, at Madison, Ill., Saturday night, by S. Glenn Young, a prohibition enforcement officer of East St. Louis, will be laid before the Madison County grand jury next week by State's Attorney Streuber.

"The killing of this man," State's Attorney Streuber said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "will be investigated. I intend to go to the bottom of it. I cannot state any reasons, but from things I gather I feel that the facts should be laid before the grand jury. The fact that Young and the policeman with him were the only witnesses makes it difficult, but every effort will be made to get the facts."

"I do not want to criticize or embarrass the coroner's jury which rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide. Their conclusion may have been warranted by the information that was before them."

Bukovic was killed in his own home, which had been entered by Young and Walter Cowgill, a Grand City policeman. Their testimony at the inquest was that as they emerged from the basement, where they had found rum and whisky and snuff, Bukovic snapped a revolver at them. Both fired at him and killed him. Eight bullets entered his body.

Coroner Krill of Madison County, after the inquest, declared that the killing of the man was unnecessary and unjustifiable. He said he doubted whether the man fully understood why his home had been invaded, and probably felt himself justified in resisting. He criticized the officers for not placing him under restraint before they entered the basement.

for Brinkman, Dunn, Groesby and Vitt.

Alderman, Seventeenth Ward—Cahill, 92; none for four other candidates.

Democratic Ticket.

On the Democratic ticket: United States Senator, Long, 92; none for Pryor, Scruton, Lindsay, Higdon and Hay; Governor—Farris, 17; Atkinson, 6; Mayer, 14; none for Merryman; Lieutenant-Governor—Burford, 22; McClintock, 8.

Supreme Court, Division 1—Dawson, 18; Radford, 17; Supreme Court, Division 2 (short term)—Williamson, 45; no contest; Supreme Court, Division 2 (full term)—Williams, 45; no contest.

St. Louis Court of Appeals—Rodgers, 15; Thompson, 6; Secretary of State—Sullivan, 92; no contest.

State Auditor—Middlekamp, 92; none for Marra, Fitzpatrick and Dougherty.

State Offices.

Deaf Children Write of Hearing Through Magnavox

Letters of Appreciation Written by School Pupils, Some of Whom Heard a Voice or Music for First Time

Grateful and appreciative little letters from pupils of the Central Institute for the Deaf, following their experience with the Magnavox last Wednesday, have reached the Post-Dispatch.

The Magnavox is the sound amplifying device which was employed by the Post-Dispatch the night of election day as a means of announcing bulletins to the crowds in Twelfth street, and which first mystified, then held in close attention the thousands of people massed around the building. It was found that the voice of the announcer carried clearly beyond the outskirts of the crowd. Indeed, his every inflection and some side remarks and comments not intended for the audience, it was afterward learned, amused the crowd, since the ordinary conversational tones of the speaker were as clearly audible as his announcing voice.

As soon as Dr. M. A. Goldstein heard of the presence of the instrument in St. Louis, it struck him that, if not of any other practical service to the deaf students at his school on Kings' highway, the Magnavox would, at least, prove a great boon as a means of saving the strain upon the voices of the teachers who must maintain high-pitched, unnatural tones to reach pupils of defective hearing. He had heard of the instrument last summer and had sent a teacher to investigate at a trial given in Washington, but had been unable to get in touch with the owners, he said.

Enrolls Children to Hear.

He hastened to ask the Post-Dispatch, whose property it is, for loan of the instrument, and last Wednesday at the school called in groups of children, some of whom are entirely deaf to ordinary sounds, some of whom had never heard the highest or the most sonorous tones of the violin or piano, and many of whom had never heard the human voice. In every case the child at one end of the tube attached to the magnavox could hear and distinguish differences in sound of the voice at the other end of the tube, though many children, to whom the experience of hearing was absolutely new, could not identify or interpret the meaning of the sounds.

Several Join in Letter.

They were all intelligent and quickly satisfied themselves as to what they had heard, and at their teachers' suggestion wrote accounts of their experience which in one class, took the form of a community letter addressed to the editor of the Post-Dispatch. The names of the children are omitted.

It follows:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"Last week you very kindly loaned us your Magnavox, and we could find out if we could hear and learn how to hear. We are very much interested in it, and thought, perhaps, you would like to know what we thought, and how we felt when we used it. So some of us want to write this letter to you. I am H. S., and our teacher said I might write to you first. I enjoyed the Magnavox very much because I could hear the music of the violin or the piano. I like to hear things."

To which L. S. added:

"I have quite a lot of hearing and I enjoy trying to talk over the telephone. I can almost always hear the person on the other end of the line talks distinctly enough. I could hear very easily and very distinctly with the Magnavox, except whispers and breath sounds in the voice."

"I am L. V. M.," writes another. "I have some hearing, too, and enjoyed the Magnavox very much. I could hear the violin easily, but I could not hear a whisper. I can hear our piano at home."

Heard Music First Time.

"I am E.," writes another. "I cannot hear as well as H. L. L., or V. L. Last Wednesday I was very pleased because I had the pleasure of trying to hear through the Magnavox. First I tried to hear people talk and it sounded so queer that I understood only a few times. I could hear the music better and enjoyed that very much."

"I am F. J., very deaf" is written at the end of the letter. "Last Wednesday I heard a violin for the first time in my life. It made me very happy. I love to feel music at the piano, but last Wednesday I heard it, too. We all want to thank you very much for your kindness to us."

Dr. Goldstein has again asked for the use of the Magnavox, and will make further experiments with it.

HARDING DESERTS GOLF FOR TARPON FISHING

Will Stay on Water All Day—Big Fish Gets Away From Him on First Day.

By the Associated Press.

POINT ISABEL, Tex., Nov. 10.—President-elect Harding deserted golf for tarpon fishing again today, cancelling a tentative appointment at the Brownsville Country Club half day trying his luck with the rod and reel. Yesterday he tarpon angling made him a staunch devotee of the sport and his friends predicted that during the remainder of his vacation here he would give very little time to any other form of recreation.

Tomorrow Mr. Harding is to speak at Brownsville at an armistice day celebration and he may go into the city early and try out the Country Club links before delivering his address. So far he has not prepared any manuscript for the occasion, but expects to dictate at least a part of his speech tonight.

Although his prize catch got away after a 45 minute tussle yesterday, Mr. Harding liked the fishing so well that he stayed out from morning until night fall.

It was the breaking of a trail line tangled in the wreckage of an old wharf that lost him his fight with the biggest fish he ever had hooked. A tarpon described by his companions as measuring more than six feet. The president-elect's boat had pulled in close to shore and the president was showing signs of giving up when the line caught fast and snapped in two. He had several other bites but came home empty handed, favored on the first day of his vacation by clear, hot weather.

Mr. Harding set forth on the expedition shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning. At the Pointe-aux-Lesaving Station, three miles out, he transferred from his motor launch to a skiff and went to work. The fight with the big tarpon took place soon afterward and when it was over he decided to make a day of it and sent the launch back to port to bring out his lunchbox.

Mr. Harding's companions on the fishing trip were F. E. Roebey and R. E. Creager, his hosts here, and Senators Hale of Maine, and Mann of West Virginia. Harry M. Daugherty joined the party in the afternoon.

10,000 TRADES WORKERS IDLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Nearly 10,000 members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America have been thrown out of work in the last few weeks of "steady business" season. Morris Feinstein, associate secretary of the organization announced here today. Of these 10,000 are tailors and cloth and dress makers, mostly in Greater New York.

"Employers say business is slack," Feinstein said. "Some of them have closed their factories, later requesting the employees to return to their jobs at a lower wage scale, asserting they can accept some cheap offers if labor costs less."

Opinion Obtained by Circuit
Attorney to Offset Possible
Plea of Unbalance at Time of Murder.

STORY OF KILLING OF GIRL CONSIDERED

Indictment Charging Prisoner
With Murder in First Degree Expected to Be Returned Today.

No trace of insanity, or of any abnormal or subnormal mental condition, was found in a two-hour examination of Albert Ellis, confessed murderer of his former fiancée, Edna Ellis, which was made in the city jail yesterday afternoon by Dr. Francis M. Barnes Jr., an alienist.

The examination was made at the instance of Circuit Attorney McDaniel, who wished to be prepared for any attempt that may be made to introduce insanity as a defense, to enable Ellis to escape the death penalty.

Dr. Barnes, in his talk with the prisoner, caused him to repeat the story of his life, in school, from 7 to 14 years of age, and in frequently changing employment up to his present age of 21; also his acquaintance with the 15-year-old girl of his own name, who was a relative, and whose home he boarded for a time.

Tells Story of Murder.

Ellis has related, in his confession, that he waylaid the girl on North Market street, east of her home at 1333 North Garrison avenue, as she returned last Thursday night from overtime work in the Bell Telephone Co. downtown office, and that he cut her throat with an old razor, which she broke in struggling with him.

Dr. Barnes found nothing in the story which Ellis told him, or in the manner of telling it, which would point to any mental state out of the ordinary. He also examined the prisoner physically, without finding anything to alter his conclusion.

The indictment charging Ellis with murder in the first degree, which was voted by the grand jury Monday afternoon, was formally signed by the 12 members of the grand jury in Judge Hartmann's court this afternoon. The judge said he would send it to Clerk Bader of the Circuit Court for Criminal Cases, whose duty it will be to assign it to one of the three judges of the Criminal Division, Judges Hartmann, Landwehr and Hall.

Circuit Attorney McDaniel has announced his purpose to ask for a speedy hearing of Ellis' case before a jury, and for the imposition of the death penalty. He will oppose the acceptance of a plea of guilty, which would probably mean a sentence of life imprisonment.

Thomas M. Marshall, formerly of the University of California and Colorado, has been appointed a full professor of history at Washington University, taking up the duties of Prof. Roland Usher, who has been granted a year's leave of absence.

Prof. Usher suffered a nervous breakdown due to overwork last year, it was stated in the chancellor's office today. He now is in England and word has come from him that his condition has improved and that his leave seems likely to restore his health.

Upon his return, Prof. Marshall will continue in a full professorship so that the university will have both him and Prof. Usher, whereas previously Prof. Usher was alone in that capacity.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The story of a hopeless infatuation which led to the death here yesterday of Miss Theodora Sanders, 25 years old, of Laredo, Tex., was unfolded before the coroner's jury this morning.

Miss Sanders plunged a Mexican dagger into her heart while talking to her former fiance, Harry H. Garver, in the lounge of a downtown hotel yesterday afternoon.

Garver, who met Miss Sanders while on a Southern trip as interstate and foreign commissioner of the Chicago Association of Commerce, was summoned before the jury to tell his story of the tempestuous romance. Passionate love letters and telegrams in the young woman's handbag when she died told of Garver's repeated promise to marry her as soon as he could get a divorce from his present wife who he now at her parents' home in Grant City, Mo.

"Last Meeting," He Says.

Later letters seemed to reveal a diminished ardor and Garver told police today that yesterday's meeting was to have been the last.

Garver and his wife have not lived together for several years. Mrs. Garver filing suit for divorce in April, and it is believed that delay in this action was responsible for Garver's break with Miss Sanders.

A message from Santiago Sanchez, Mayor of Laredo, today, requested the police to send Miss Sanders' body to her home in Laredo.

Hotel officials said the young woman registered Nov. 1 and appeared well-to-do. The conversation between Miss Sanders and Garver was said to have followed a conference with an attorney but Garver, when questioned, refused to discuss their relations.

"We were engaged," Garver is said to have told the police. "The engagement was broken off. I can't tell you why. She threatened me on several occasions."

Garver said the young woman gave no warning of her intention, but suddenly drew a long, slim dagger from her pocket and plunged it into his left side. She died as she was being removed to her room. A mother and sister living in Laredo were notified.

Love Letters Found.

Among Miss Sanders' effects were love letters and telegrams addressed to "Mrs. Theodora Garver, Laredo, Tex.," and signed "Harry." Police said they believed the letters were from Garver.

Frequent reference was made in them to a suit which apparently had not been settled. One letter told Miss Sanders to arrange for a wedding announcement if she felt she must, and that they could be sent out after the "suit" was settled.

In Miss Sanders' room the police found a deck of cards spread out on the table, where Miss Sanders apparently had been telling her fortune. In the center, face up, was the ace of spades, known as the "death" card among fortune tellers.

A knife slit in the center of it corresponded in size to the dagger with which Miss Sanders killed herself.

In a signed statement made to the police, Garver said Miss Sanders frequently came to Chicago and that at one time he "loved her madly."

Promised to Marry.

"I promised to marry her," he said, according to the police, "but she was high-strung and temperamental and we quarreled every time we met. Two months ago I broke off the engagement but I repeatedly urged me to marry her. We were discussing the engagement when she killed herself. I stood up, intending to leave, in order to avoid a scene, and as I turned away I heard her body fall."

According to police, Garver's statement that he broke off the engagement two months ago was not borne out by the letters found in Miss Sanders' possession, which referred to their plans for marriage.

In it Garver said he had inquired from the court about his divorce and whether it was legal for him to be remarried, but "was struck dumb" when he learned that he had only been granted a separation and not a divorce.

Miss Sanders Formerly Teacher in Laredo City School.

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 10.—Miss Theodora Sanders, who killed herself in Chicago, was born and reared here and for several years was teacher in the Laredo city schools. She came of a family of early settlers in this section.

Some months ago Miss Sanders sued a business man for alleged breach of promise and after termination of the suit made a trip to Mexico and later to Los Angeles. A Chicago newspaper reported a few months ago that she was to marry H. H. Garver of Chicago, whom she met while he was on a trade excur-

CITIZENSHIP DENIED RUSSIAN ON GROUND OF RISK INVOLVED

Judge Faris Refuses to Take Chance on International Complications to Make New Citizen.

Federal Judge Faris, in rejecting today the application of Abraham Siegelman, a Russian, for citizenship, filed a memorandum of his reasons, chief of which was that the country, in extending the protection of citizenship would be taking a chance of entering international complications that would be out of proportion to the benefit the country could receive by gaining a citizen.

He said he realized this was "a cold-blooded view, much at variance with the vaunted home-of-the-oppressed idea, but declared that "in view of the recent shortcomings, not to say failures, of the melting pot in times of stress and danger, it is imperatively necessary that more care be exercised in the selection of citizens."

Siegelman had said that he wanted to become naturalized before returning to Russia to get his wife and two small children, which he desired to bring to this country. Judge Faris said that if he were directed under the protection of the American flag, it would be the duty of this country to protect his rights as a citizen, and thus international complications might result.

COLBY TO VISIT THREE SOUTHERN CAPITALS

Will Make Official Stops at Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo, Informal at Buenos Aires.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Secretary of State Colby announced today that on his forthcoming trip to South America, he would visit Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and Buenos Aires.

The stops at the Brazilian and Uruguayan capitals will be for the purpose of returning the recent visits to the United States of the President of the Argentine Republic, the visit to the Argentine capital will be informal.

Colby was unable to say today when he would leave the United States or give any information as to the personnel of his party beyond the statement that it probably would consist of more than a dozen persons.

After President Wilson had issued a statement that he had directed Secretary Colby to make the trip "on my behalf and in my stead," Secretary Daniels announced last night that the dreadnought Florida of the Atlantic fleet would be placed at his disposal for the State Department.

President Wilson in his statement said he would be gratified if Colby accepted the invitation extended by Argentina to visit that country.

FRENCH DISCUSS RELATIONS OF FOCH AND CLEMENCEAU

Circumstances Leading to Elevation of Foch to Commander of All Allied Forces Main Point.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—Marshal Foch has become the center of an animated discussion which is occupying the attention of the French press and political circles generally. The main point turns on the relations of Marshal Foch and Premier Clemenceau in the crucial stages of the war and the circumstances leading to the Marshal's elevation to the rank of commander-in-chief of all the allied forces.

Marshal Foch has given his own version, declaring he had only been appointed to the supreme command after Premier Clemenceau had yielded to the insistence of others, including Field Marshal Haig, the British commander, and asserting that his relations with Clemenceau were strained.

Andre Tardieu has replied to Marshal Foch, declaring that it was in fact Clemenceau who secured the supreme command for Foch and that Clemenceau was throughout the champion and defender of Foch instead of his enemy.

Dealing with the statement attributed to Foch that "M. Clemenceau only bowed, and with bad grace, to my appointment as supreme commander," M

Tailored Suits

Are Indispensable—These Are Special Values at

$59.75

DID you know that it is quite the thing to wear a tailored Suit under the loose fur coat or the great wrappy affair so that while indoors, the outer wrap may be thrown aside and the wearer present a trimly effective appearance. Then, too, there is the matter of walking trips to be considered; a plain well tailored Suit is the non-burdensome costume in highest favor.

Now to satisfy these urgent demands we suggest your making a selection from our Suits at the price featured above. It is certain that you can find no better values. Through the entire category of many colored chamistynes, velours and silver-tones the keynote of fine tailoring and snappy styles is ever present. Dominating all impressions is that of splendid values.

(Third Floor.)

A Splendid Array of Frocks

Are Presented at

$59.75

THERE is a dark blue crepe de chine embroidered in self-colored dots banded in plain material and softened by frills of the same. A navy Georgette all-over embroidered in black and lighter blue touched here and there with blue satin, a slim black satin with a most unusual flare overskirt embroidered in black—why continue, for there are many, many more just as attractive Frocks all to be secured at this favorable price.

Afternoon Dresses, all of them of meters, satins and Georgettes—of the best in designs and fabrics—surely very interesting buying at this price.

ADVERTISMENT

Banish Catarrh

Breathe Hymel for Two Minutes and Stuffed-Up Head Will Go

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time, breathe Hymel.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe free, awake or asleep, or money refunded.

Hymel should be used in one day, and relief will be almost certain.

Hymel is made chiefly from eucalyptus, a soothing, healing, germ-killing antiseptic that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia, where catarrh, asthma and other bronchial troubles are seldom known.

Hymel is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the Hard Rubber Inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A Complete Hymel Outfit, including Inhaler and one bottle of Hymel, costs but little at Wilson Drug Co. and drug stores everywhere.

Extraordinary Thursday Events in the Basement Economy Store

Unparalleled This Season Is This Thursday Sale of
$20, $25 to $32.50 Dresses

Over 1000 Dresses, Secured in an Extraordinary Purchase and Offered at..

Memory does not recall when the Basement Economy Store, or any other for that matter, held a Dress Sale as wonderful as tomorrow's event. These Dresses, purchased from several New York manufacturers, have just arrived and it is an actual fact that Thursday's price does them an injustice in point of beauty, quality of material and workmanship. So remarkable are these Dresses that it will not surprise us to see women buy several of them at a time.

Dresses are smartly fashioned of tricotine, velveteen, all-wool serge, all-wool velour, satins, charmeuse, crepe de chine and combinations. Wanted colors without end, as well as navy and black. Sizes 14 to 44.

At least 100 clever styles are shown; 10 as here illustrated. Practically all of the favored modes of the season are represented in pleasing variety. Plain tailored Dresses, as well as embroidered and beaded Dresses.

Dresses are hung on racks according to sizes in order to make selection as easy as possible.

Here It Is—the Sale You've Been Waiting for, Offering—

12,415 UNION SUITS

(Subject to the very slightest of imperfections.)

For Men, Women, Boys and Girls, Thursday Only, at the Almost Incredible Price of

It is conservative to say that this is St. Louis' most remarkable sale of Fall and Winter underwear. We seemed to be attempting the impossible to buy Union Suits to sell for $1.00—but we succeeded. Succeeded beyond our expectations. Thousands and thousands of garments are ready for this sale. There are practically all weights and all styles for men, women and children. Economical folks will buy enough of these Union Suits to last throughout the Winter. The entire center aisle in the Basement Economy Store, in addition to the regular knit Underwear Section, is being used to display this immense quantity of Union Suits. No mail or phone orders can be accepted and this sale is for Thursday only.

For Men—

$1.85 to $3.50 Union Suits

Heavy, medium and light weight flat fleeced, ribbed fleeced and unfleeced Union Suits. All sizes. Shown in white, gray and ecru. Subject to slight imperfections.

For Women—

PARIS TEMPS SAYS U. S.

"CANNOT STAY OUT"

Points to Possible Danger to Monroe Doctrine With America Out of League.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—In a leading article, which evidently reflected Government opinion, Le Temps insisted yesterday that neither the question of disarmament nor that of Germany's admission to the League of Nations can properly be met until the attitude of America toward the league shall be clearly defined.

The article says: "The United States cannot remain apart from an international organization extending over the entire world. Only a League of Nations can be capable of uniting 40 states in one assembly, which will consider not merely such matters as the control of the Saar Valley and Germany's former colonies, but also will deal with affairs of universal concern."

"Application and enforcement of the terms of the entire Versailles treaty hinge upon the league, for, under article 213 of the military clauses, Germany undertakes to give every facility for any investigation which the Council of the League of Nations, acting by majority vote, may deem necessary."

"We stand in the presence of texts which assign a certain role to the League of Nations. Are we to renounce these texts? It must be recognized that disarmament is not a matter to be disposed of without the co-operation of the American Government."

"As to the admission of Germany into the league, if the United States should decide to enter the league, on condition that certain changes be made in the covenant, obviously we ought not to push Germany hurriedly ahead. On the other hand, were another form of international association to be proposed, the time set for the meeting of the league in Geneva would be a badly chosen moment for opening the door to Germany. To do this would seem to be working for the isolation of America, which would be both inexpedient and absurd."

Dealing with a request of the Peruvian and Bolivian Government for examination by the league of treaties those countries were obliged to sign with Chile in 1883 and 1884. Le Temps says a remarkable situation might arise in which a question wholly American would be envisaged without the assistance of the United States.

"Thus it appears—paradoxical as it may seem—that damage to the Monroe Doctrine might be threatened by the absence of the United States from the league, rather than by its adherence. The new American administration must certainly realize that the world has need of the United States, and the United States has need of the world. The administration will doubtless propose some new form of international collaboration for transforming the League of Nations or for replacing it. It is not for us to suggest ideas, but we await impatiently those of America."

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT AGENT DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

P. J. Butler Stricken With Heart Disease When Apparently Recovered From Appendicitis Operation.

Patrick J. Butler, 47 years old, of 3823 Junata street, a prohibition enforcement agent, died suddenly last night at the St. Louis Baptist Hospital, where he was operated on two weeks ago for appendicitis. He had improved since the operation and was expected to leave the hospital next Sunday, but at 9:50 o'clock last night his nurse heard him groaning, and doctors, after an examination, said that his heart action had suddenly become subnormal. Twenty minutes later he died.

Six years ago Butler was appointed a Deputy Internal Revenue Collector and served as such until national prohibition went into effect in January, when he was transferred to the staff of Prohibition Enforcement Agent Digges. Before his connection with the Federal forces he had been a city detective.

He is survived by his wife and two children. His brother, Thomas J. Butler, was a member of the old House of Delegates and is a Democratic City Committeeman and Deputy State Drug and Food Commissioner.

KAISER REFUGEE AT DUTCH FRONTIER TWO YEARS AGO

Now Leading Life of a Holland Country Gentleman, Doing About as He Pleases.

By the Associated Press.
DOORN, Holland, Nov. 10.—Two years ago tonight William Hohenzollern arrived at the Dutch frontier, a refugee Emperor. Today he is leading in this little village the life of a Dutch country gentleman, doing just about as he pleases and going almost where he desires, about the countryside, so long as he stays within the territorial limits prescribed by the Dutch Government.

The Associated Press correspondent has been told by those in close touch with the former Emperor that during the past few months William has found much contentment in the life on his new estate here. He is said to feel certain that no further demands for his surrender will be made upon the Holland Government.

Large Sawmill to Be Closed.
By the Associated Press.
NEWBERN, N. C., Nov. 10.—The John L. Roper Lumber Co., operating one of the largest sawmills in the South, announced today that its plant would be closed Friday for an indefinite period, because of a lack of demand for lumber. More than 1000 men will be affected.

POLICE UNABLE TO FIND TRACE OF WALLET AND $3700 LOST

Man Missed Money at Union Electric Office Soon After Cashing Check at Franklin Bank.

The police today had found no trace of a wallet containing $3700 which Sam Rosenberg of 4004 Delmar boulevard reported having lost yesterday afternoon on or between Broadway and Twelfth street and Olive street and Washington avenue. Rosenberg said he had been to the Franklin Bank, Broadway and Washington, at 3 p. m., and cashed a check which he had received in a real estate deal, getting nine $100 bills and 56 $50 bills. He walked north on Broadway to Olive, stopped at Thompson's lunchroom there, and from there went to the office of the Union Electric, at Twelfth and Locust, he said. It was when he arrived at the electric office to pay a bill that he missed the wallet, he said. He did not remember having been in a crowd, or having been jostled.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 60 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money. "I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box, and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. "I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Roper, 1127 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis. Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, eczema, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Company, Incorporated, Buffalo, N. Y.; Julius & Dolph, E. A. Medler, Enderle Drug Co. and Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. will supply you.

FORMER PRISON WARDEN DIES

Maj. R. W. McClaughry Succumbs at the Age of 81.
By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Maj. Robert Wilson McClaughry, formerly Warden of the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and of the State Penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., died at his home here yesterday. He was 81 years old.

Maj. McClaughry was born at Fountain Green, Ill., and enlisted as a private in the 118th Illinois Infantry in the Civil War, rising to the rank of Major. He was Warden at Joliet from 1874 to 1878, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory from 1883 to 1891 and Chief of Police here from 1891 to 1893. In 1899 Maj. McClaughry became Warden at Leavenworth, serving until 1913, when he retired.

Over-Worked Men

The strenuous life we are living uses up our vitality faster than nature can replace it. To overdo anything is harmful and if continued, will wear out the strongest constitution. Overwork, worry, brain-tire, high living and dissipation waste away the most vital elements of the blood and nerves—then disease sets in. At first there is general indisposition, poor appetite, indigestion, headache and weakness, the temper irritable, the spirits depressed and the memory poor, often ending in premature decline. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets assist nature by building up your blood and nerve forces. They make new, rich, red blood, which gives strength to the entire system.

BRITISH FLAG IS BURNED

Man Tears It From Theater Decorations in New York.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A British flag of the Armistice Day decorations at the Capitol Theater was pulled down last night and burned. While a large number were in line at the boxoffice a man, claiming to be an Irish republic sympathizer, hauled down the flag with a hooked stick and with several others rushed to the gutter, where the flag was burned.

The manager of the theater telephoned to the police, but when they arrived the man had disappeared.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

MARKED INCREASE IN COFFEE DRINKING

Prohibition Given as Principal Reason for Big Gain in Consumption.

Sixteen billion more cups of coffee have been consumed in 1920 than in 1919, due principally to prohibition, according to Felix Coste of New York City, secretary of the National Coffee Roasters' Association which opened its tenth annual convention at the Hotel Statler this morning.

"The coffee roasters' association began a campaign of publicity urging the public to drink coffee instead of alcoholic beverages at the time the prohibition law was adopted," Coste said. "The public has readily taken to the use of coffee as a substitute for alcoholic stimulants."

Records of the association show that the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, was the record coffee-drinking year. The total consumption in the United States for this period was 1,358,000,000 pounds, and the per capita consumption 12.7 pounds, reports show. The total increase over the year 1919 was 292,000,000 pounds.

Members of the association estimate that there is 40 cups of coffee to the pound, which would make a total of 54,320,000,000 cups of coffee consumed by people of the United States in 1920. Coste estimated that each morning for breakfast there were more than 80,000,000 cups of coffee used.

Samuel C. Prescott, professor of industrial biology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has been engaged by the association to make a scientific research to find out better ways of roasting the coffee bean and of preparing coffee as a beverage, in an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning said that the remarkable increase in the use of coffee was really because it is a more pleasing stimulant than alcohol.

"Caffeine, which is the principal stimulating ingredient, is the only known substance that will act as a stimulant when used moderately, and still allow a person to do more physical and brain work under its influence without giving a depressing effect afterward."

"A person drinking coffee never goes below normal, as is the case from the consumption of alcoholic beverages. In other words, a man drinking coffee gets the extra 'pep' with no 'hangover'."

"The weight of scientific opinion today is that caffeine is the most valuable stimulant known, and that coffee is the most valuable adjunct of food, if properly prepared, although the average housewife has never learned how to prepare coffee as it should be."

Seeking New Method.

Prof. Prescott, who, while attending the meeting, will tell the members of the association the many phases of his investigation and the many facts regarding coffee he has uncovered in the research, is spending much time in his work attempting to find a method for preparing a coffee beverage which will eliminate all components that are undesirable and leave all the desirable constituents.

Convention Closes Friday.

The convention will close Friday with a banquet. An address of welcome by Mayor Kiel and the report of C. W. Brand of Cleveland, O., president of the association, were the main features of the opening session.

T. Longgaard Menezes, from Sao Paulo, Brazil, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session. He told of condition in Brazil, which produces more than one-half the coffee used in the United States. Labor was scarce, he said, and consequently there will not be a large supply of coffee next year. He predicted that owing to the conditions, there would be an increase in the price next year, although he would venture no statement on the percentage of increase.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess calomel tablets are the best, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.

JAVANESE FOLKSONGS ARE SUNG AT RECITAL

Mme. Eva Gauthier, Who Lived Five Years on Island, Also Wears Native Garb.

Mme. Eva Gauthier, a French-Canadian artist, who is by way of being a Yvette Guilbert with youth and a voice, provided one of the most entertaining recitals heard here in many a moon, yesterday at the St. Louis Woman's Club. Folk songs of Java, sung in the native tongue and costume, formed the climax of her program. She was assisted by Salvatore de Stefano, one of the few performers who can make the harp interesting. The occasion was the annual members' day concert of the Morning Choral Club. The gathering thronged the ballroom and overflowed into the corridor.

The folk songs were prefaced by so thrilling an account of Mme. Gauthier's experiences in Java that the audience almost forgot the music that was to come. She spent five years, she said, on the island, which has a population of 45,000,000 Mohammedans and 10,000 Europeans. For six months she resided in the palace of the Sultan, who rules over 25,000,000 subjects, and whose retinue of attendants, officials and guards numbers 50,000—to say nothing of his 200 wives—"all of them happy."

Her dress, she said, was a present from the Sultan. It was of the embroidered cotton fabric called "batik," which originated in Java, and which, with the substitution of silk for cotton, has lately become a fashionable material in this country. About her shoulders was a red scarf, in which, she explained, the native women carry their parcels and babies. On her declaration that neither pins nor hooks were used, many women sprang to their feet to see what held the garment on. The cloth was wrapped about her body and tied.

Violins Have Heads of Human Skin. One of the Sultan's apartments, she continued, is an orchestra, the principal instruments of which are songs tuned to various tones and violins made of half a coconut, with a head of human skin and two strings. Two members of the orchestra, who sit among the players, are dancers. The visits of Javanese orchestras to Paris, according to the artist, exercised no small influence on the style of Debussy and Ravel. By means of the Sultan's band of musicians, said Mme. Gauthier, she was able to make a study of the folk tunes of the island.

The first song by her was said to hark back to the seventh century before the Christian era. If so, the Javanese had attained a skill in constructing an expressive melody which Europeans did not achieve until more than a thousand years later. The tune appeared to be in the Aeolian mode. In the text, a swain laments that love burns him from morning to night, and declares that death would be better than such anguish.

Her second song was a Malay tune, also in the Aeolian mode. In the words, some native minstrel sets forth his opinion that batik without embroidery is no less futile and disgusting than a wife without judgment. The next song was apparently in the Javanese mode, and was a pathetic love lyric. The fourth and last song was a lullaby which all nurses on the island, whether Malay, Arab or Chinese, sing only to white children, all of whom, irrespective of sex, the native women call "Nina." In the words, Nina is begged to go to sleep, to cover up his or her feet, until finally the weary nurse does off, but continues drowsily to sing in her sleep.

Ravel Turns to Folk Style. This melody was in what Europeans know as the major mode, but it modulated skillfully to the melodic minor, and also used an occasional accidental with fine effect, as in a repeated leap from the octave of the tonic down to the sharp of the fourth. For all of the songs up-to-date piano accompaniments had been supplied.

In addition, Mme. Gauthier sang with admirable elocution songs by Debussy, Ravel, Rachmaninoff, Koecklin and Cesar Franck, as well as a quaint folksong of seventh century Brittany, "Merlin dans son berceau." She explained that "No. 14102" was one of three songs composed by Ravel while virtually in the trenches, and pointed out the curious fact that this composer, a modern of moderns, and the most erudite contrapuntist since Bach had, in his song, under the influence of the war, reverted to the artless ease and simplicity of the folk tune. Another number was the "Brindisi" aria from Donizetti's "Lucrèce Borgia." De Stefano, in three groups of selections, brought to the harp, such power and expressiveness of touch as to obtain an effect almost pianistic.

Part of Loot Taken From Bank at Valmeyer Early
Saturday Found in Auto
After Arrest of Gangster.

WITNESSES ON WAY TO VIEW PRISONERS

Names on Securities Published in Post-Dispatch
Lead to Their Identification.

Liberty Bonds of a face value of $2000, recovered by the police as the result of a chance arrest of two men and four women as they alighted from a stolen automobile at Sixth and Market streets at 12:05 a. m. yesterday, have been identified as part of the loot taken by burglars from the bank at Valmeyer, Ill., early Saturday.

One of the men under arrest is John (Honus) Rawie, 44, of 1244 South Ninth street, ex-convict and member of the Cuckoo gang which infests lower Chouteau avenue. Rawie is under a two years' penitentiary sentence on a charge that he and three others stole 1000 feet of galvanized iron pipe from the Handlan-Buck Manufacturing Co. on Feb. 19, 1919. He has been at liberty on a $5000 appeal bond.

The other man is Edwin J. Wurtz, 19, of 107 Trudeau street. The Post-Dispatch yesterday published six names found on bonds taken from Wurtz at the time of his arrest. Sheriff Loehe of Waterloo, Ill., read the names and recognized them as the names of owners of bonds stolen from the bank at Valmeyer, which is 30 miles south of East St. Louis. He is now on his way to St. Louis with the bonds. Valmeyer who observed strange men about the bank prior to the robbery.

Another Bond Recovered.
Wurtz declared that he had been giving a party in his home Monday night. Rawie appearing with an automobile and inviting some of his guests for a ride. He said that Rawie had been drinking, and as he fell from his seat when the car rounded a corner, the six Liberty Bonds dropped out. He said that he placed them in his own pocket for safekeeping.

The police went to Wurtz's home, verified from Wurtz's father, Edwin A. Wurtz, 60, the fact of a party and Rawie's call, and learned also that during his stay in the house Rawie had called the elder Wurtz aside and had asked him to keep a $1000 Liberty Bond for him. He handed over the bond and Wurtz gave it to the police upon their visit.

The police learned at the Federal Reserve Bank that the bank had sold this bond to the bank at Valmeyer during the fourth Liberty Bond campaign.

Tried to Abandon Auto.
The four women who were arrested with the men were waitresses and factory girl employees. The car in which Rawie took them riding had been reported as stolen two days previously by Harry Anastas, a saloon keeper at Sixth and Market streets, the corner at which the arrest took place. The occupants tried to leave the machine when they heard a policeman, who recognized Rawie, rapping for other policemen.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY TO KEEP HIM OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

Leather Workers Union Secretary
Alleges Five Companies Barred
Union Men After Strike.

A suit for $10,000 damages alleging conspiracy to keep him from employment was filed yesterday by Herman Ehlbeck, 2841A Magnolia avenue, against the P. C. Murphy Trunk Co., Herkert & Meisel Trunk Co., James A. Quirk Trunk Co., St. Albans Leather Goods Manufacturing Co., and H. A. Kolb Trunk and Case Co.

Ehlbeck sets forth that he is a member of Local Union No. 562, United Leather Workers, and he, with other union members, left their employment last September after they had been unable to agree with their employers as to rate of wages. Ehlbeck was working for the P. C. Murphy Co. He says that since the trouble arose he has been unable to find employment with any of the defendants, and he charges that they reached an agreement among themselves by which they will not employ him nor any member of the union. He says that he is secretary of the union and was a member of the committee which attempted to negotiate a wage scale.

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds
as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Set the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin. Gently massage Mustard into the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Mustard for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

EAST SIDE CARMEN CONSIDER WAGE AWARD

Dissatisfaction Voiced Prior to Meetings to Take Vote on Accepting Increase.

Members of Division 505 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, being the conductors, motormen and others employed on the single-track divisions of the East St. Louis & Suburban Co.'s electric railway system, are dissatisfied with the increase in wages granted them by a board of arbitration yesterday.

Conductors and motormen were receiving from 48 to 52 cents an hour, and last April asked for an increase to 60 cents. The award yesterday was for an increase of 13.12 per cent, the motormen and conductors to receive 60 cents an hour, with the exception of those employed on one-man cars, who are to receive 66 cents. Laborers and others will also receive an increase of 12.12 per cent.

General Manager Parsons said today that the award was about 75 employees, and will be retroactive to May 1. Each man will receive about $100 back pay.

The "night" members of the division met this morning in Labor Temple, at which the award was read to them by David Walsh, who represented the men on the Board of Arbitration. Before the meeting William Perry, president of the division, said there was a strong sentiment among the men for a strike, and he expected a strike vote would be taken, he said, no announcement would be made until after a meeting of the remainder of the employees, to be held this evening.

The award is 19 cents an hour less than that granted employees of the East St. Louis division three months ago. They were receiving from 46 to 51 cents an hour, and asked for 87 1/2 cents. They were awarded 70 cents.

Some of the members of Division 505 are employed on the Alton, Granite & St. Louis Traction line, which is in the hands of receivers and under jurisdiction of the Federal Court.

Perry said it was possible that the men would reject the award. They signed an agreement with the company to abide by the decision of the board, but he said, he has learned that the public stenographer employed to take down testimony at the public hearing, had permitted a stenographer employed by the company to typewrite the testimony. He alleges that errors were made, which may have had a bearing on the decision of the neutral member of the board. He said the matter will be referred to W. D. Mahon of Detroit, national president of the street car employees' union.

GRANITE CITY MAN'S WIFE VICTIM OF TURK DEPORTATIONS

He Hears, However, That She Escaped and Is in a Near East Relief Hospital.

Garabed Hampartoomian of Granite City yesterday received word from Armenia that his wife, who was a victim of the Turkish deportations, had been rescued and was in a Near East relief hospital. He immediately went to the St. Louis office of the organization, 1423 Chemical building, and sent his wife $100 for her support.

The letter was written by Dr. Mark H. Ward, in charge of the hospital at Harpoot, Armenia, and was the first word Hampartoomian had received about his wife in more than two years, and he did not know whether she was dead or alive. She is a graduate of the Presbyterian College at Harpoot and was a teacher in that institution at the time of the deportations.

"Since the deportations," Dr. Ward said in the letter, "she has been working as a tailor in a Turkish boy's home in Paloo City. She had a hard time to escape from them. She came to my hospital in a very poor and sick condition and asked me to help her. It is four months that she has been one of my patients. She improved but not yet cured. Your brothers, Doghan and Avedis, died on the Paloo bridge. Their wives and their four children are in Paloo River."

His wife and another woman, the letter states, are the only members left of Hampartoomian's family as a result of the deportations.

NEGRO WHO WAS ARRESTED ON CHECK CHARGES DISCHARGED

No Prosecution of Chauffeur Who Was Said to Have Bought Autos When He Had 85 Cents in Bank.

Sim Manning, a negro chauffeur of 3527 Lawton avenue, was discharged in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday when he appeared to answer a bond given three weeks ago, when he was arrested by detectives given by Manning in payment for automobiles and tires he had bought while the detectives stated, he had only 85 cents balance in bank.

Harry Frank, 3440 Lindell avenue, tire dealer, who had complained of a check for $149 given him by Manning which had been returned from the bank marked insufficient funds, told detectives Manning had repaid $100 of the amount and had promised to make restitution for the balance and said he did not want to prosecute. Others concerned also refused to prosecute and no information was issued in the case.

Manning at the time of his arrest was questioned by Assistant Circuit Attorney Peeman and said he did not know he even had the 85 cents balance in bank. He said the checks he had given for automobiles and accessories had been made out by others and he did not know they were checks and thought they were notes.

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in the composite detail a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its every contour, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles; fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illuminated with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

Could Nature have taken you for her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror the present and compare your looks with the picture of health. You will find many points of difference. If you fall in any single point of weakness, you are not the picture of health. It is imperative, then, that you take means to rebuild your strength, energy and vigor—to bring your body up to a standard of efficiency in all its parts.

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

Nothing is more efficacious as a restorer of exhausted nerves and physical forces than LYKO, the great general tonic. It tends to repair the worn-out tissues, replenish the blood, create new power and endurance, and revives the spirits of those who are weak, frail, languid and over-fatigued as the result of sickness, excessive strain, worry or overwork. It is a reliable appetizer, a splendid aid to digestion and a fine functional regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

The Ultona, playing a Brunswick Record. It plays each type of record exactly as intended, being adjustable at a turn of the hand.

The Oval Tone Amplifier, with grill of instrument removed. There is no clashing caused by imprisoned tone waves.

Only Brunswick has these features

They make all the difference in the world

THE Brunswick Method of Reproduction gives you more than a musical instrument, with truer, finer tones than you ever heard before.

It puts the whole world of recorded music at your command. For the Ultona plays all makes of records, without any more adjustment than a simple twist of the wrist. It has the three types of needles necessary to play all records, presenting each needle to the record at just the proper angle. Not an adjustment, but an in-built part.

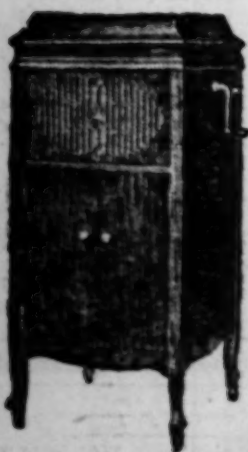

The Brunswick Oval Tone Amplifier is an all-wood tone chamber, shaped according to definite laws of sound expansion, which eliminates metallic noises and allows the tone waves to expand and amplify properly.

Have any Brunswick dealer play your favorite selections with Brunswick Records, or any other records. Then decide for yourself.

An Independent Income for Your Wife

It would give you intense satisfaction, would it not, if you could settle on your wife an independent income?

Money coming to her regularly, never failing her, no matter what misfortunes overtake you, what lapse or shrinkage in your income?

If you adopt the simple and practical
Mercantile Trust Plan for Creating or Enlarging an Estate you can accomplish this laudable purpose.

You can create, with partial payments, an Estate entirely separate from your own, and not subject to the vicissitudes of your own fortune.

You need not segregate from your income or profits at any one time sufficient cash or securities to create this Estate. You can arrange that at your death it will pass to her at once, that the income from it will not be interrupted by probate proceedings and that it will be kept securely, always, for her benefit.

We have prepared a booklet which explains this Plan fully. It opens remarkable opportunities for the man of moderate means. Ask for booklet, "The Mercantile Trust Plan for Creating or Enlarging an Estate."

Mr. Hoffman Develops in Troco the flavor which made his butter famous

The process of making is essentially the same. Troco is churned from rich, snowy coconut fat instead of butter fat. Care and skill imparts the fine flavor which gives both Troco and butter their sweetness.

Thus the man who can make the finest butter knows how to make fancy Troco.
Such a man supervises its production.

Famous in the butter world

He is A. E. Hoffman, for 30 years butter maker, judge and teacher.

Mr. Hoffman is famous in the butter world for the peculiar sweetness and delicacy of his butter. He puts the same sweetness and delicacy into Troco.

Finest plant in the country

We have built Mr. Hoffman a fine plant—of white tile and concrete—elaborate in equipment—perfect in sanitation.

This enables him to standardize the perfec-

3 MEN CHARGED WITH TAKING BAKERY SAFE AND RIFLING IT

Service Car Driver Says He Was Forced to Haul Them at Point of Pistol.

Three men whom the police arrested early yesterday morning on a general suspicion of mischief were identified last night as the robbers who took a safe from the Teutenberg bakery, 1516 Market street, Monday night, forced a service car driver to haul them and the safe out into St. Louis County, and there cracked the safe and took $255 from it. They deny the charge.

The men, Manus Doran, 30 years old, of 4 North Thirteenth street; Edward Wietholler, 22, 3417 Marcus avenue, and James Freeze, 22, 1419 Market street, were passengers in a service car which the police automobile squad observed at Vandeventer and Finney avenues shortly after midnight. As the men were known to the policemen they were questioned. A search of the car disclosed $128.36 under the rear seat, and a search of the men disclosed $45 in Doran's pockets. They were held. The bakery robbery was reported later.

After considerable questioning, Bernard J. Doerr, 21, driver of the car, who lives at 2107 South Fourth street, made a written statement that he was called to Fifteenth and Market streets, where Wietholler, after getting in, placed a pistol against his side, made him drive to a place where they picked up Doran, Freeze and another man; thence to an alley behind the bakery. Doran and Freeze soon emerged with the safe, he said, and he drove to a point near Kirkwood, where the safe was broken open. It was found there yesterday.

UNITARIAN DRIVE TO OPEN HERE

Quota of $30,000 Assigned to St. Louis Churches.

A campaign for a quota of $30,000, to be used to carry on an educational program and further the work of the Unitarian Church, will begin tomorrow in St. Louis under the direction of the two Unitarian churches here. The drive will continue until Nov. 21.

A quota of $3000 has been assigned to the First Unitarian Church of Alton, which will be in the same unit with the churches here. The drive is nation-wide, and the goal has been set at $30,000.

Former President Taft is honorary chairman of the national fund committee. In the educational program which will follow the drive, an effort will be made to convert many thousands of Americans without church connections to the Unitarian faith.

POLICEMAN STRUCK BY AUTO

Patrolman Michael Evoy, 47, of 1929A Labadie avenue, was seriously injured last night when struck by an automobile driven by Jay Fox, 1305 St. Ange avenue, as he crossed in front of 4260 Arsenal street to go to his relief corner near that point. He suffered scalp wounds, cuts and bruises and injuries to both knees.

Five persons were cut and bruised when a service car driven by Fred Doercoff, 2533 South Jefferson avenue, was overturned by a Cherokee street car at Gravois avenue and Delor street at 4 p. m. The injured were George Moehlenhoff, 72 years old, of 3321 South Broadway; Mrs. Elizabeth Moehlenhoff, 63 years old; Mrs. E. Brown, 3915 South Broadway; Mrs. George Sorg, 4400 South Broadway, and Mrs. Winkler, 3833 South Broadway.

⌘ This concert will undoubtedly be one of the greatest ever presented in St. Louis, and may not be equalled for a long time. Seldom is an opportunity afforded to hear three of the world's foremost pianists on the same program and thereby compare their individual art. The presence of one noted genius is highly gratifying, and it will be increased threefold by the appearance of the gifted Godowsky, Ornstein and Mirovitch.

⌘ After hearing these master pianists of international fame at the concert tomorrow evening, be sure to go to an Ampico dealer in St. Louis and hear the Ampico rolls which they made. It will enable you to compare their playing in person with its reproduction on the Ampico. Many consider this instrument to be the world's greatest reproducing piano, and it is claimed by its inventor to be humanly perfect.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Negroes Not Natural Criminals.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
The police officials at the Ninth District Police Station inform me that absolutely no motive was ever discovered by which a negro might have been suspected of murdering Miss Edna Elly. The finding of a razor handle, as if negroes are the only ones who use them, so far as the paper with which I am connected is able to ascertain, was the only thing which might have indicated in the slightest degree that a negro was implicated, and, in view of the subsequent confession of the young white author, the absolute absurdity of this theory is clearly shown. In St. Louis and adjoining towns several negroes were arrested and had not a confession been obtained it is probable that some poor colored man might have been punished for the brutal crime on the theory that negroes are prone to attack white women.

Through your columns I wish to ask the reporters on the daily papers if they do not recognize the responsibility that rests upon them when, on the mere stretching of their imagination, they point suspicion toward negroes in cases where white women are involved?

Investigations carefully conducted indicate that in only a very few cases, certainly proportionately less than when the same attacks are made by white men on white women, is it ever clearly established that negro men deliberately attacked white women. While many explanations might be offered, it is so very seldom that a negro is arrested or even charged with attacking negro women, it seems improbable that these men should make a specialty of attacking white women. There can be no doubt, though, that negroes harbor a deep-seated resentment against the disadvantageous position in which they are placed before the courts when similar charges are made against white men attacking black women. It has not been so many weeks ago that an elderly white man was confronted by a small negro child and accused of having assaulted her. Medical examination disclosed the fact that the child had been intentionally assaulted. The police officials refused to take any action in the case, so our paper is informed, because they claimed a conviction could not be obtained on the testimony of the child. Could such a thing be imagined if the race of the principals had been reversed?

May I suggest that such a subject is worthy of careful consideration by the managing editors of the daily papers, that a discussion of the matter with their reporters would emphasize the danger of constantly creating the opinion that negroes are natural criminals?

NARRISON M. GILLIBRAN,
Managing Editor St. Louis Clarion.

High Price of Milk.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
We hear so much about the high price of milk these days, and yet everybody goes on buying and complaining as usual. Did it never occur to anyone to strike against these high prices? Why not? If there was a boycott on milk for at least two months the dairymen would sing another tune. I know from experience that healthy children can be raised without milk, after the nursing period is passed.

My mother raised three of us children where milk was almost impossible to get. It is an outrage that we should always pay for these strikes. I have not used a drop of milk since July and will not until prices come down. E. BALAZS.

Can't Get Work.

I hope you will print this letter in your "Letters From the People's Column," and also that some of the "employers" in this town will read it.

Why is it that so many ex-service men are unable to find work? As soon as we came back from war they began slashing wages, and now they are refusing us work altogether, and still these men who got all the glory while we were gone are still on the job. My Buddie and I have walked the streets for over a week now looking for work, but every place we go they say, "We can't do anything for you." Did we say that when they needed us? I enlisted at the outbreak of war and served through to the end, and now cannot find work of any kind.

A TWO-YEAR SERVICE MAN.
(Please send in name and address, in case work is offered by any reader who may need help.—Ed. Post-Dispatch.)

Rent Payers' Associations.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
A "Renters' Association" advocates an association of rent payers organized to buy each other homes by means of monthly deposits left to accumulate, and a drawing to decide the order of placing the contributors to this fund in the homes.

A gigantic plan based on these principles has been established a year ago and has today more than 2000 members. It is the result of years of study and research concerning financial, economic and housing conditions and is within the reach of every family in the country. It is under the supervision of the State and operated under bonded officials.

The writer will gladly furnish details upon inquiry.
A. HARRY TILL,
3644 McRee avenue.

PEACE DAY.

Public celebration of Armistice Day on the actual date of the event will be limited in this city to a two-minute period of silence and cessation from activities in commemoration of our dead soldiers and sailors who gave their lives in the war. Organizations will have special celebrations, but the general public celebration, organized by the American Legion, will take place Sunday afternoon, when a great parade on the streets, ending with commemorative exercises in the Municipal Theater, will be held.

The shifting of celebrations here and all over the country is due to the fact that the day has not been recognized or set aside as a holiday by Congress and the State Legislatures. This ought to be done at the earliest possible opportunity. Certainly no day is more memorable in the annals of the modern world than the day upon which the world war, with its monstrous horrors and enormous sacrifices, was brought to an end. All the world rejoiced with an irrepressible and exultant joy as mankind had never known. Not only did the day end a period of unexampled slaughter and destruction, but it opened a new era in civilization which men fondly hope, after the turmoil of revolution and reconstruction, will usher in a new order of democracy and of amity and peace between nations.

The day should be called Peace Day. It should be set aside as a holiday the world over. It should be consecrated to the dead who died that other men might live in liberty and peace and to the promotion of the processes of peace between nations. The setting aside of the day which suggests the horrors of war, the sacrifices of the peoples in war, the glorious contributions to peace of gallant soldiers and sailors and the blessings of permanent peace would go far to unify the thought of the world in support of justice and liberty and peace.

A STREET WORTHY OF ITS NAME.

With the section east of Grand avenue widened and repaved and the section west much bettered, the greater Washington avenue is all that it was expected to be when the improvement project was first undertaken. Time must elapse, of course, before private property can be given an appearance worthy of its frontage on such street, but it is already a splendid thoroughfare that suggests what it is certain to be in coming years. The duty of its private property owners to live up to their street is manifest.

The years are not so many since such an ambitious project would virtually have been impossible. It would have been denounced as fatuous and unnecessary. From its cost of many hundred thousand dollars the unprogressive would have turned away aghast. That it has been possible now is evidence of many recent changes in St. Louis. One change is a city growth making its necessity indisputable even to obstructionists. And there have been other changes that are revealed in the general attitude of St. Louisans toward improvements and their confidence in the future of their town.

The population of Nome, Alaska, which reached 15,000 in the height of the gold rush has dwindled to a straggling 200. Some wearers of Poe's mantle might hymn "the grandeur that was Nome."

NOW FOR WOMEN ALDERMEN.

To remove the disabilities that prevent women from holding certain offices may require some time, perhaps several years, when the eligibility is defined by the Constitution, but the office of Alderman is fortunately open to them at present. City Counselor Daines' scrutiny shows "any voter" who has the qualifications prescribed as to age, length of residence and taxable property is legally entitled to be an Alderman, and women, being now voters, have the same eligibility as men.

Our Board of Aldermen has not been a very satisfactory body in the past. In the matter of certain public improvements it has shown some responsiveness to public desire when the desire has been clearly indicated, but at best it has been a rather stodgy, unprogressive board, with an exaggerated respect for political bosses and small deference to the force of a public-spirited idea. Not many months ago this solidly Republican body was not adverse to engaging in so ancient a city hall sport as promotion of franchise grabbing.

What shall we do with our Board of Aldermen? It is a question with which many St. Louisans have struggled in vain. The answer, of course, is now obvious: Elect a lot of our capable, energetic, resourceful women to occupy chairs in the city hall. If half of the new members selected next spring are women, their representation, with the holdover men, would be only a quarter of the entire body. Their enthusiasm and knowledge of St. Louis will make the board the asset it was hoped to be when the new charter was adopted.

NEPOTISM IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Legislator O. B. Whitaker of Weaubleau is making a campaign for Speaker of the next Missouri House on a platform which has this as one of its planks:

I am opposed to the patronage system of graft and extravagance, especially with reference to the rolls of the General Assembly, and believe that only the necessary efficient force should be employed.

Mr. Whitaker says further that the rank Missouri has won by reason of its excessive number of legislative employees is a disgrace. Apparently he does not believe that the force of sons, nephews and other relatives on the clerical pay roll ought largely to exceed the number of the legislators themselves, especially when many of them never visit the Statehouse except to draw their salaries.

This is a strong plank. It brings Mr. Whitaker's candidacy into favorable consideration at the outset. At any rate, nobody ought to be chosen Speaker who will not subscribe to the same plank and pledge himself to its execution.

The ex-Kaiser ought to break into one of the major leagues. Baseball is getting to be his kind of game.

"THE ROAD TO DAMASCUS."

Pride of opinion, according to Republican leaders, has been Woodrow Wilson's besetting sin. To that sin they charge the failure to secure ratification of the peace treaty and covenant and our entrance into the League. If the charge be true, it is imperative that the men to whom the responsibilities of government have been given shall not be guilty of the same destructive error. The man of all men who must avoid that fatal mistake and bend a new path, by enlightenment and reason, to agreement, is Mr. Harding.

Could Mr. Harding, in the difficult circumstances confronting him, take a wiser step at this time than that of persuading the irreconcilables within his own party, such as Senators Johnson and Borah, to go to Europe and acquaint themselves at first hand with conditions there? It would be well, too, if Senator Reed should accompany them. What effect a personal study of the European situation would have on those Senators can only be conjectured, but the experience of Mr. Wickersham warrants the belief that the judgment of those men would greatly be modified by contact with the desperate want of the Old World.

Mr. Wickersham, it will be recalled, was sent to Europe by the New York Tribune, during the sessions of the Versailles conference, to "write against the League." Whatever were his instructions, that was the public expectation. The distinguished correspondent found it impossible to cover the assignment on those lines. When he looked upon the destitution, physical and moral, of Europe, the elemental needs that could scarcely be supplied even in the victorious nations, the stark hopelessness of the vanquished, he realized that a departure from the old beaten ways was imperative, that something new under the sun had to be done—in short, that the nations of the world must organize and mass their strength and wisdom and honor for the sake of civilization.

That Senators Johnson, Borah and Reed, the conspicuously able opponents of the League, or any league, are sincere in their antagonism is not to be doubted. But as men of ability and integrity and courage they would be brave enough to change their opinion if convinced they were wrong. And as Europe, when looked upon at close range, has convinced Wickersham and Root and every other American of consequence of the League's merits, is it not likely that the irreconcilables would have the same experience as those others have had "on the road to Damascus"?

Should the Governor of Illinois become Secretary of the Treasury, would Uncle Sam's surplus be known as the Lowden fund?

THE BASEBALL "UPLIFT."

The baseball magnates seem determined to kill their business. The plan of a 12-club league, which is supported by the eight clubs of the National League and three American League clubs, is doomed to failure, unless history reverse itself. Such a circuit, tried long ago, was found unwieldy, interest-destroying, impracticable. It had to be abandoned. Subsequently two major leagues of eight clubs each were organized, with the interleague series to end the season in a truly fine climax.

Under this arrangement, working harmoniously, yet in a genuine competitive spirit, baseball has flourished. Possibly it has been too prosperous. The complaint that commercialism has superseded sport has been voiced, and seemingly with reason. Nevertheless, when all the debts of the present system are footed up, there is still a good balance on the credit side.

It is the judgment of dependable sporting editors that the present revolt is largely a work of spite by certain club owners bent on ousting President Ban Johnson of the American League from baseball. If that be true, the professed anxiety of some of the leaders of the rebellion to elevate and purify baseball must be accepted with reservations. For, though many of the magnates in the present movement are men of irreproachable character, there are others whose riddance would be the best thing that could possibly happen to the game.

It may be observed, in fairness, too, we think, that Mr. Johnson, besides being the ablest executive the game has known, has been the most potent individual factor in the upbuilding of baseball in point of character as well as industrially. For that reason, if for no other, any proposed baseball "uplift" whose inspiration is the elimination of Johnson, is likely to be lewed with suspicion by the great baseball public.

In explaining the 100,000 Republican majority in Missouri credit also should be given for the silent but effective work of National Committeeman Babler.

I join with you to sing the hymn to morn—
Life-giving light, breaking the bonds of night.
Bringing the color back in swelling waves
Of beauty to the faded, pallid world.
A glorious, triumphant flag, unfurled.
Up from the death of night you raise the day.
A promise of that glad, prophetic dawn.
As to the Cross, I kneel in ecstasy,
Thou Symbol of the Risen Holy One.

MARY STERLING.

Frank Vanderlip has solved the problem of how to have a place in the country without being harassed by the undesirable element in the immediate village by buying the village outright. There is always an immediate village, and it always has an undesirable element. In the case of Mr. Vanderlip it is Sparta, which he has bought, lock, stock and barrel. Great, if you can do it! Not all of us can. We can only bear with the immediate village and join with the better element in it to reform those disagreeable to us all. We are not sure that this has not been a civilizing force in the world for a long period of time; but we cannot be positive about it until we have seen the outcome of Mr. Vanderlip's experiment. If the tone of Sparta improves, not much will remain to be said for the old plan; but if Sparta becomes worse then we shall know certainly that civilization is the consequence of one element trying to reform another. Thus, a church or a lodge is often obviously refining inside while doubtfully refining without. We have a lot to learn about this sort of thing, and we cannot think of a better plan than to learn it at Mr. Vanderlip's expense.

It looks as if we would be back to normal by Spring. In that case, building materials will be back to the level at which we live, and we can resume with building houses, flats, apartments, etc. Then the landlords who have made such fine hay while the sun was shining will begin to discover midew in their crop, and we can all laugh at the wit of the man who recalled that the first mention of landlords in literature occurs in the play "Julius Caesar," where we find the line:

"See what a rent hath the envious Casca made!"

California has been greatly heartened in her attitude toward the Japanese by the similar attitude of Australia and New Zealand. It was harder when she stood alone. It is easier now when the bustling hostility of the Slope to Japanese ownership of land is no greater than the opposition to it upon the part of the British colonies in the Pacific. Likewise, it is making the Japanese attitude toward California a little more thoughtful. They are several Californias, as it turns out.

A gentleman who hung out an amusing sign writes us that it has been corrected. He says a number of persons called his attention to its appearance in the sign column, though he is himself a reader of that column and had seen it before anyone spoke to him of it. He thinks it is a sure sign that this column is read and enjoyed by a great many people, and is not a bit sorry to have contributed something to it from the front of his own shop.

Br'er Root thought it would be unwise as well as untrue to say that the League of Nations is dead; but it seems to have been wise, and whether it were true cannot make any difference now.

Frats are part of the exuberance of youth. No school board retains the exuberance of youth.

Anyway, Point Isabel is a welcome change from the 13 points.

If the Republicans can do for us all the things they said they could do for us, they will find us the grateful beneficiaries of their executive skill. They have the Government for the next four years, and if there is an obstacle before them in the doing of precisely what they want to do we cannot think of it. We have no objection to living in a land of milk and honey, and as long as the milk is not sour and the honey has no bees in it we are not going to say anything about any other theory of Government than the one the Republicans intend giving us. It is not fair to assume that they cannot do all these things, even allowing something for the possible extent to which they overstepped themselves in the campaign. Maybe they can. At least, people evidently believe they can, and we can't recall a time when our sense of security was greater than it is in their hands.

"IF THE DEVIL WAS SICK."

He insinuated himself into the back yard and knocked timidly on the door.

"Madame," he said, to the lady who finally looked out, "I've 'ere a fine Rooshun prayer rug."

"Nonsense!" answered the lady, "there is no such thing as a Russian prayer rug. The Russians don't use a rug to pray on. What you mean is a Tur—"

"The Rooshun wot I got this rug from used to pray on," he said. "I dropped right down on it in the street and yelled: 'Fur Gawd's sake, don't spear me with that 'ere bayonet and I'll give you this rug.'"

Like as not we have defeated the proposal to have a new constitution for Missouri drafted. Anything new is an ogre in Missouri. The proposal to have a new understanding about war cost the Democrats the State by a hundred thousand votes.

Leagues of all sorts seem to be having trouble. The only one we know of that seems to be holding its own is our league with the Devil.

POSSUM.

Yes. We have eaten a possum.
But our possum was not fattened
For two weeks after capture.
Our 12-year-old brother
Killed him first and
Captured him afterward;
Then invited us to cook it.
And we said: "Cook that thing!"
But our husband said
It was good to eat.

We found a cook book which said
To take his outside off
And his insides out.
Then fill him with sweet taters
And sew him up.
And boil slowly for two hours.
Then we put him in the oven.
With more boiled sweet taters around him.
And butter and salt over all.
And browned him nicely.
But oh! Yum! Yum! We're afraid to say
How fine he tasted.

Fer fear you might think
There's a colored streak in us.
We want to add
We have lots of sweet taters.
And we wish your friend
Had sent us the possum.

Chamela, Mo.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading public newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE BOOK PUBLISHERS.

From the Nation.
THE publishers of books are unhappy. They wonder loudly how, at the present cost of production, they are going to continue to provide with reading matter. Like other people, they would like to double their prices. But since they know that their wares are considered far more dispensable than lip-sticks or chewing gum, they are wary of demanding what they need. In some cases they have gone up from 10 cents to 25 and more the $1.50 novel has crept timidly to $1.50 or $2. The difficulty is very real. But the publishers themselves are not quite guiltless of clouding their situation. If you are so hard put to it, the intelligent public may well ask, why do you waste labor and material on volumes of third-rate verse and insignificant essays? A notable volume should command publication without question. But why, to take a recent example, make a handsome book of 12 literally worthless poems by a British editor? Why, in addition, do such houses continue the bad old habit of gambling in cheap and lurid fiction? For one such book that makes money a dozen barely pay the printer's bill. In brief, the slogan "fewer and better books" which was raised recently, is needed not only from a literary but also from an economic point of view.

GERMAN COTTON INDUSTRIES.

From the Manchester Guardian.
ABOUT the middle of July a decided improvement in the German cotton industry set in, and it is now evident in almost all branches. The far spinners have derived the greatest benefit from the revival. Several of the largest mills are now running virtually the whole of their machinery, for the first time since the early months of the war. The smaller concerns find it more difficult to finance their raw cotton purchases, but all of them are much more busily engaged than they have been for a long time past. It is stated that all the business recently placed is for short delivery, and that although producers are well engaged until November, they have little booked for later delivery. Manufacturers of shirtings were the first to feel the trade improvement, but it is stated that good orders for printing cloths, flannelettes and waste cloths for table covers have been placed recently. Cotton dyers and calico printing establishments are also more actively engaged, the larger firms being supplied with sufficient orders to keep them busy through the winter months. Cotton companies' reports just issued show a substantial increase in the profits and the dividends.

DISSATISFACTION IN RUSSIA.

From the Communist.
IN Russia the Soviets have become bureaucratic organizations. I do not condemn them for that, I merely state the facts. In Russia a widespread dissatisfaction exists among the peasantry and a majority of the working people. Peace has not come. Production does not increase. This dissatisfaction has caused the dictatorship which at first was over only the bourgeoisie and peasants to be extended so that it is now over the working people as well. The constitution has been amended. Section 25 provides that working people who are politically unreliable shall be deprived of their political rights. So the dictatorship over the working people themselves has been extended. Things are not as they should be in the Communist party itself. In Moscow the very sparrows twitter from the roofs that the dictatorship is a dictatorship of five men, who force rigid obedience even from their own party associates. Let the Russians be governed the way if they are willing, but we should not be asked to endorse that sort of thing in Germany.

WASTE AND GRAFT UNDER SHIPPING BOARD CHARGED

Co. was trying to purchase under a blanket contract all supplies and stores of the Fleet Corporation and charged that one of the officials of this company was also "an advisor to the Shipping Board's cancellation and claims board."

The Shipping Board announces Monday night the sale of surplus material on the Pacific Coast valued at about $15,000,000 to "Barde Bros., Incorporated," New York.

As to building contract cancellations and hull removals, the report asserted that the Shipping Board entered into a contract with George F. Rogers to remove hulls which were on the ways in an unfinished state at the time the contract was signed, or to secure from the builders or the owners of the land on which the hulls and ways rested a release from further liability.

Hulls for $5000 Each.

"For some reason," the report said, "the United States Shipping Board saw fit to make a contract with Rogers to pay him $5000 per hull for each hull thus handled by him. The result has been that in many cases the United States Shipping Board has paid an additional $5000 per hull to have Rogers sell the hull or give it away, in many cases the cost of the hull representing several thousand dollars. Rogers has found no difficulty in selling these hulls at a very fair price, which revenues revert to Rogers, in addition to which he collected from the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation $5000 per hull fee."

The report said the contract entered into with the American Lumber Sales Co. "should be gone into by this committee, because it presents some features that are questionable to say the least. The report then goes on to charge that the company was to some extent "composed of persons previously engaged with the fleet corporation; that it purchased materials from the corporation at a stipulated price and sold these materials at an advance, sometimes of more than 100 per cent over the purchase price, and that in many cases it appeared that the company used the Fleet Corporation plants and equipment "to reap enormous profits from the sale of materials which it had purchased" from the Fleet Corporation.

The contract with the Southern Scrap Material Co., which, it was stated, had been abrogated, also was criticized. It was charged that the contract was made by an agent of the board at New Orleans "without the knowledge of his home office," and that materials, in many cases not declared surplus, were sold to the company at prices far below the market quotations at the time of the sale.

Company Used Board Employee.

The report further charged that the organization of the board's supply and sales department, particularly its port representative, was used by the company to sell materials purchased from the Shipping Board and that in many cases the port representatives sold these supplies "for perhaps 100 to 125 per cent net profits" to the company, and that "certified checks for same were made out to order of Southern Scrap Material Co."

It was alleged in the report that repair work on Shipping Board vessels was done on a basis of pay for workmen on the job at current wages plus 50 per cent for overhead and profit, plus 10 per cent on material cost to cover cost of purchase and profit on the contractors.

"Overcharges immediately became and continue to be common under this form of agreement," the report said. "It is to the advantage of the contractor to pad payrolls, slight work, put too many men on the job, encourage loafing on the job, corrupt inspectors and timekeepers, use helpers and charge for first-class workmen, use common labor and charge for skilled labor, drag the work to make it last longer, find additional work to do, and get it specified, etc."

"Corruption of United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation employees and officials became the tendency under this practice. Usually attempts are made by contractors, and in many cases apparently are successful, to secure the favor of the port construction and repair representative, who has the assignment of work to the various contractors, and the local United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation agency auditor, who has under his charge the checkers and timekeepers."

"Good Men" Were "Heckled."

It was charged that "good men" were "heckled," insulted or even frightened off the work, where they will not prove susceptible to the corruption. The report declared it was a comparatively easy matter to "accidentally" drop a bar or wrench into a ship's hold when a "straight" timekeeper or inspector was standing under.

The report dealt at length with the furnishing of fuel and supplies to Shipping Board vessels, declaring that the "expenditure of millions of dollars was left in the hands of masters, chief engineers and stewards." In many cases, it was asserted, the supplies are purchased from brokers, who add a profit of from 25 to 40 per cent, give gratuities to masters and stewards in the form of "free lunches, free automobiles, free liquor, free entertainment, etc.," and charge them in with the price of supplies.

The report charged that ships' officers were enabled by the fuel allowances made for each voyage to finish with excess fuel that they reconverted for a full supply on rebunkering, and "then get a rebate from the bunkering company" to the extent of the excess.

Charge Political "Pull" Used.

It was charged that through political influence ships had been assigned to companies in which officials of the Shipping Board "were or had been associated," and that companies which did not have "the standing or the financial responsibility to insure safe and proper management and operation," got all tonnage applied for by that means.

While many of the Government ships are making a profit, the report said, others are operating at a loss, and it was asserted that there were many who believed that a final accounting of the operations of the ships would show "a serious loss on the gross tonnage operated."

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION PROPOSITION CARRIES BY 30,000

Election returns compiled by the New Constitutional Association of Missouri up to today show that the fifteenth proposition, providing for a constitutional convention, carried by more than 30,000. William M. Ledbetter, secretary of the association, said today. With returns from 14 counties missing, the proposition is 50,000 votes ahead, and could lose every one of the 14 counties and still win, he said.

The proposition was carried in Buchanan County by 15,000 to 40,000, in St. Louis city by more than 40,000, and in Jackson County by more than 30,000, Ledbetter said.

Change of Milk Condensery Into Pasteurizing Plant Discussed.

Conversion of the plant of the Helvetia Milk Co. at Highland, Ill., from a plant for condensing milk into a plant for the pasteurizing and bottling of milk for the St. Louis retail market will be the subject today of a conference between the Highland Business Men's Association and the farmers who have been marketing their milk at the plant.

The farmers yesterday consulted officials of the Helvetia company and obtained from them a price of $91,000 for the buildings and site. Recently the farmers and the Helvetia company have been disputing the price of milk, and the fact that the company has not been condensing milk has further disturbed the dependability of the condensery as a market for producers.

The farmers point out that by

Each day beginning today for one week an unfinished Mother Goose Rhyme will be printed in this paper. The object is to finish the Rhymes not as they are in the Mother Goose book, but instead in an original way to carry the thought that "Mother Goose Is Coming." The actual phrase "Mother Goose Is Coming" need not be used, but reference must be made in some way to carry the idea. In order to win a prize the entire series of unfinished rhymes must be completed. Watch the papers each day for the rhymes. Complete them as they appear each day. Rhymes of contestants must be sent in so that they will reach this office not later than three o'clock of the day following publication. Prizes will be awarded for most original rhymes submitted. Winners' names will be printed, together with an announcement when and where prizes are to be given, shortly after judges have reached their decision. Contest is open only to children of 12 years of age and under. Judges of Contest are: George M. Burbeck, Adv. Mgr. Post-Dispatch; Edward L. Hill, Asst. to President, Globe-Democrat; Carl Gogel, St. Louis Times; and J. R. Baker of The St. Louis Star. Now get busy, boys and girls—get your mamma and papa, or big sister and brother to help you—but impress upon them, "Mother Goose Is Coming."

Here's an example of how rhymes should be filled in—

8 SOLDIERS TO BE REBURIED WITH HONORS

Frenchmen's Bodies Moved
From Battlefield for Armistice Day Ceremony.

By the Associated Press.
VERDUN, France, Nov. 10.—The bodies of eight unidentified French soldiers, exhumed from as many sectors of the former battle line, from the Belgian frontier to the Vosges, arrived at the Verdun citadel yesterday. From among these Minister of Pensions Maginot today will request a private soldier to choose at random one body, which will then be transported to Paris to be laid finally at rest beneath the Arc de Triomphe in Thursday's Armistice day celebration, as a symbol of the thousands of "pallies" who sacrificed their lives for France in the great war.

The remaining seven bodies will be buried with military honors on the Verdun battlefield. It was originally intended to disinter nine bodies, but in one sector of the front—which the military authorities refused to divulge—German and French bodies were buried in common graves and were so intermingled that the disintering in charge of the work of exhumation decided it would be unwise to disinter a body there as the honor of burial beneath the Arc de Triomphe might quite as likely be afforded to a former enemy as to a gallant patriot.

Long after the last body had disappeared behind the battered walls and the famous fortress gates had been closed and night was settling, silent, bareheaded crowds awaited the coming of the ninth body, disappearing only when the commander of the fortress informed them that no more bodies would arrive.

In a low casement the eight bodies lay in state last night surrounded by a thousand lighted candles, while stern men and weeping women in widow's weeds filed silently past. On a stand nearby were trophies from the city of Verdun which will be deposited upon the coffin of the soldier chosen today and will accompany the body in its last journey to the Arc de Triomphe, there to remain throughout time. The trophies were the Croix de Guerre, the insignia of the Legion of Honor, the Military Cross, the Order of Leopold, the Distinguished Service Medal, sabers of honor presented by China and Japan, the Greek War Cross, the Italian military medal and numerous others.

GERMAN SPECULATED IN U. S.

Millionaire Mine Owner Sues English Agent for Accounting.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—How Hugo Stinnes, multi-millionaire steel and mine owner of Germany, has been speculating in the coal market of this country through an English agent was revealed yesterday in a suit filed in the Federal Court. This agent, according to the complaint, has never made an accounting of the $550,000 placed to his credit in the National City Bank to purchase coal, steel and other commodities in the American market. It is alleged that since June 1, 1920, the agent's profits have amounted to more than $200,000.

Harvey Allan Miller, the British subject named in the petition, could not be found. Judge Mayer issued a restraining order against Miller and the National City Bank, directing them to show cause in court Friday morning why an injunction should not be issued to impound $550,000 reported now to be credited in Miller's name in the bank.

358 PAIRS OF TROUSERS STOLEN FROM CLOTHING COMPANY

Four Bolts of Cloth Also Taken by Burglars—Loot Valued Altogether at $1614.

Burglars last night looted the stockroom of the Western Clothing Co., on the second floor at 1017 Lucas avenue, and carried away 358 pairs of trousers, valued at $1162, and four bolts of cloth, valued at $452.

The building was closed and the doors locked at 5 p. m., and at 7:15 p. m., a private watchman discovered the front door open. Investigation disclosed that the burglars evidently had entered the building through a rear window, which was broken several days ago. It was not known what had been taken until an inventory was completed this morning.

IRON WORKER FALLS TO DEATH

Roy Stuyvesant, 45 years old, of 1308 Chouteau avenue, an iron worker, was killed yesterday in a 52-foot fall from the new warehouse of the Polar Wave Ice Co., King's highway and Natural Bridge avenue. Policemen reported he was disconnecting an iron block on one of the upper structures of the building when the block slipped, causing him to lose his balance. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today.

PARISH HOUSE IS DYNAMITED

By the Associated Press.
ST. CATHARINE, O., Nov. 10.—The parish house of Holy Trinity Czechoslovak Catholic Church was dynamited early today, the porch being blown off. No one was injured. The house is occupied by the priest, John Frena, recently installed priest against whose appointment a protest was made by members of the church, who, for a time, maintained an armed guard to prevent his taking possession.

All Mothers Will Find Use for This Gentle Laxative

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a constipated child and note its quick recovery.

In a growing family the subject of the thought with the parents is how to keep the children healthy and happy, and what to do when they become ill. Most illnesses of childhood are the symptoms of constipation, such as headaches, coated tongues, flatulence, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, biliousness, etc.

You can surely feel safe in doing what tens of thousands of others do with good results, so give, according to the age of the child, a small quantity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought last year at drug stores. It is America's favorite family remedy for constipation, indigestion and similar ills, and is especially suitable for children, women and old folks as it is so mild and gentle in action.

There is no secret about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. Druggists have sold it for thirty years, and a sixty cent bottle will last for months. Experienced mothers are never without it in the house.

BOY IS ARRESTED WHEN HE PRESENTS STOLEN CHECK

Came Here From Chicago When He Heard Town Was "Easy"—Companion Caught Later.

Two burglaries committed Monday afternoon in the southwestern section of the city were cleared by the police following the arrest yesterday afternoon of Edward Mulligan, 14 years old, of 405 Cleveland avenue, Chicago, when he presented a check for $95 at the State National Bank, Fourth and Locust streets.

The check was identified as part of loot taken from the home of Hugo R. Brolman, 4570 Clayton avenue. A check book, a valise and diamond ring, also stolen from the Brolman home, were found in the boy's pockets.

At Police Headquarters Mulligan confessed that he and a man whom he had accompanied here from Chicago a week ago looted the Brolman residence and the home of Oliver Frank, 4564 Papin street, Monday afternoon. He said that his companion suggested that they come to St. Louis "and pull off a few jobs as the town was easy."

On information furnished by Mulligan, detectives last night arrested James F. Breeding, 20, of Dallas, Texas, as he was claiming a grip in the parcel room at Union Station. He had in his pocket a watch which had been taken from the Frank residence.

Breeding admitted that he and the boy had committed the two burglaries. He said they rang the doorbells and finding no one at home had forced entrance through back windows.

The arrest of Mulligan was brought about by Brolman having notified the bank that his home had been ransacked and that the check had been stolen. The police were notified and detectives were stationed at the bank to see who would present the stolen check.

OLD CLOTHES DEALERS FEEL EFFECT OF NONBUYING ERA

'Curb' Merchants in New York Say There Is a Surprising Lack of Customers These Days.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Fashionable uptown clothiers who are reducing sluggish stocks by means of elaborately advertised "reduction sales," have nothing in the way of business worries on their humbler brothers of the "Old Clothes" curbstone market in Bayard street, off the Bowery, itinerant members of the "curb" declared today. Despite a lively cut-rate war, these picturesque dealers in second and third hand clothes asserted business has come almost to a standstill.

Some blame the trouble on prohibition, which has dulled many a "buying mood," and others attribute it to the passing of the era of extravagant buying. All agree, however, there is a surprising lack of customers.

Silk shirts, which have been in demand since the armistice was signed, they say, are out of favor. Fancy shoes, silk socks and gaudy cravats are no longer in demand. One street corner merchant cut the price of a $40 overcoat to $15.65, in the course of half an hour's argument, but couldn't make a sale.

The financial depression not only has hit the retailers, but the wholesale dealers, as well, it was said.

FUNERAL OF ROLL A FOOTBALL PLAYER TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The funeral of Edwin J. Bohn, 22 years old, of 4923 Forest Park boulevard, left halfback of the football team of the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, who died at the Mullany Hospital Monday evening from injuries received in a game against Warrensburg Normal at Rolla last Saturday, will be held from the residence of his brother, Harry M. Bohn, 5830 Waterman avenue, to the New Cathedral, Lindell boulevard and Newstead avenue, at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment will take place in Calvary Cemetery.

About 50 fellow students of Bohn will attend the funeral.

$3,000,000 CHURCH DRIVE OPENS

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—The campaign of the Unitarian Church to raise $3,000,000 was in progress today after its opening here last night by former President William H. Taft. Taft, in his address at the First Church asserted that the campaign was not intended "to proselyte or to win people from other churches, but to bring religion to those whom other churches may not be able to influence." He said that the time had come for "affirmative and militant action against the inertia and indifference of religion."

"History demonstrates beyond question," said Taft, "that upon the Christian religion has been founded the moral progress of the world. During the war we were stirred to earnest thought of our responsibilities. We faced things as they were and we all felt the inspiration of religion."

TURNER SUIT TO U. S. COURT

The suit of Henry A. Turner, administrator of the estate of Clarence W. Turner, deceased, against the St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co., on petition of the defendant, was removed yesterday from the Circuit Court at Edwardsville to the United States District Court at Springfield. Clarence Turner was killed in Granite City May 26, during labor trouble at the coke plant and the petition alleges that he was killed by a man named Miller, an alleged strike-breaker in the employ of the defendant.

THE VICTORY OF GOOD VALUE

Dodge Brothers' great works are operating at full capacity every day.

It is good to be able to say to you that Dodge Brothers' implicit faith in the good will that grows out of good value is being vindicated by everything that is going on in their plants today.

You know well that Dodge Brothers dedicated themselves, from the very first, to the production of a car which should rise superior to all external conditions, and be, in effect, and in fact, a law unto itself.

They were supremely satisfied, to begin with, that good motor cars supplied a great and a permanent human need.

They were sure that no matter what happened, there would always be an inexhaustible market for the particular kind of a car they hoped and planned to build.

They were convinced that they could produce a car so sound in value, so saving, and so satisfactory to the individual owner, that no outside influence could shake its hold upon the public.

The simple facts, as they exist at this moment, are so inspiring that we are prompted to share them with everyone who shares with Dodge Brothers their faith in sound business principles.

Dodge Brothers are more strongly and soundly entrenched in the good will of the public at this moment than ever in their history.

Every good result which John and Horace Dodge counted upon when they committed themselves to the principles of building good will by building good value, has come to pass.

Their certainty that people will always discover a meritorious product, set it apart, prefer it and reward it, is continuing to come true with each and every succeeding business day.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car is in demand because Dodge Brothers Motor Car meets a definite economic need and satisfies a human craving for honest and substantial value.

Its market will continue to grow and the production continue to increase to meet that market, as long as merit continues to be the determining factor in motor cars and in all other manufactured products.

SALOON MAN HELD FOR ROBBERY OF ANOTHER

Proprietor of Place at Eleventh and Chestnut and Bartender Identified as Holdup Men.

Detectives investigating the hold-up at noon Monday of William Garvey, a saloon keeper at Fifteenth street and Broadway, East St. Louis, who was robbed of $200 by three men, raided the saloon of Mike Balosi, Eleventh and Chestnut streets, at 4 p. m. yesterday and arrested six men, including the proprietor. The detectives also confiscated Balosi's automobile, a sack containing $400 found behind the bar, a loaded revolver and two jugs and a keg of whiskey.

Garvey later identified Balosi, who is 40 years old and resides at 1320 North Broadway; Frank Cantoni, 21, Balosi's bartender, who also lives at the Broadway address, and James Howard, 29, of 2923 West Sherman place, as the three men who participated in the robbery.

The money taken from Garvey by the robbers had been drawn from bank by him to cash pay checks. Employees of the National Malleable Casting Co., who were among his customers. The robbers locked Garvey in an ice box and took the money from the cash register.

The prisoners denied having had anything to do with the robbery.

SALOON PROPRIETOR ROBBED

He Says Man Walked In, Knocked Him Down and Took $200.

Charles Chingo, a saloon keeper at 909 Market street, told policemen last night he had been standing at the bar of a saloon at 724 Market street when a stranger stepped up, struck him in the face and knocked him down, after which he took a purse containing $200 from Chingo's hip pocket.

About that time, Chingo said, his friend, Joseph Carney, living at the Carleton Hotel, who was playing a piano in another part of the saloon, rushed to Chingo's assistance and the robber fled from the saloon, dropping his hat. The police have the hat, a green fedora.

New York Loses Rental Claim.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — New York State lost yesterday its effort to collect $294,191.68 from the Federal Government as a rental for 4522 horses and mules which went to the Mexican border during the 1916 National Guard mobilization. The State is not entitled to the money, according to a decision handed down by the Court of Claims. The animals were part of the equipment of the State's guard division.

WIFE CAUSES ARREST OF MAN ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Evansville (Ind.) Locomotive Engineer Arrested at Home in East St. Louis.

J. Crawford Hughes, 30 years old, of Evansville, Ind., a locomotive engineer employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. at East St. Louis, was arrested yesterday on a charge of bigamy on a warrant issued by Justice Kane at the request of his wife, Mrs. Addie Hughes, who alleges that he has been residing at 1305 Exchange avenue, East St. Louis, with Mrs. Myrtle Hots, 20, a divorcee, of Evansville, to whom he was married in St. Louis last July under the name of Walter Gray.

Hughes declined to make a statement when seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter. Mrs. Hughes said they were married in 1911, and have two children. Last May he went to East St. Louis to work, and obtained employment as an engineer on a switch engine in the Louisville & Nashville Railroad yards. Mrs. Hughes resided with relatives, as Hughes, who returned to visit her several times, explained, it was impossible to rent or buy a home in East St. Louis, and it took all he earned to live in a boarding house. Mrs. Hughes became suspicious of her husband, and two weeks ago her brother went to East St. Louis and obtained employment as a switchman for the same railroad. Hughes was working for. He learned that Hughes was known as Walter Gray, and by making inquiries learned of his address and the presence of the second woman.

Yesterday Mrs. Hughes arrived in East St. Louis, and accompanied by her brother and Police Sergeant Ewing, called upon "Mrs. Gray." The latter told of their marriage in St. Louis and exhibited a marriage certificate signed by Justice McChesney. Then Mrs. Hughes introduced herself, and said she was the legal wife of "Gray," and that he had been married under an assumed name. Mrs. Gray said she suspected there was something about his past that he sought to conceal from her, as he would never permit her to accompany him to Evansville, Ind., when he went to visit. There, she said he told her, he went to visit his mother.

"Mrs. Gray" said she became acquainted with her husband last July while in East St. Louis to attend a theater. She had been divorced a short time before. They were married after an acquaintance of three weeks. Mrs. Hughes and her brother went to the office of Justice Kane and obtained a warrant charging Hughes with bigamy.

Even the Hot Stove League Doesn't Seem to Warm Up to that Lasker Plan

Major League Magnates to Meet in Chicago Nov. 16 To Settle Baseball Tangle

Telegram to Garry Herrmann at Kansas City States That Formal Gathering Will Discuss Issues—National League Head Says Vote Will Not Be Considered Binding.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10.—Armistice day will be celebrated by World War veterans tomorrow, but they will have little on the principals in the baseball war which has flared up in the newspapers during the last month, culminating this week at the meeting here. According to indications here today, a truce has just been agreed to by the 16 major league club owners, and from this armistice peace is expected to result.

The armistice between the warring "New National League" faction and the "Loyal Five" American League clubs will be on tomorrow, and will continue to Nov. 16, when it is expected the framework of a permanent friendly understanding will be reached at Chicago. This battle was based on a telegram received here today by Garry Herrmann, former chairman of the National Commission and now president of the Cincinnati National League Club, which announced that a meeting of 16 major league club owners had been arranged at Chicago on the date named above, and that the American League supporters of Ban Johnson would be represented by the participants in this meeting would not be bound by any vote, on that occasion, but would meet to agree on a way out of the situation, it was stated.

Herrmann addressed the minor leagues during the day, and gave out the contents of the telegram. President John R. Heydler of the National League was among the visiting baseball men here today. President Ban Johnson of the American League and George W. Miller of Chicago, attorney for the league, yesterday met the minor league owners and urged them to show no favor to either side in the major league dispute, but asked that a committee be appointed to act in the event the National League could be persuaded to join in the proposal. President Johnson declared that he was in favor of granting the minor leagues equal representation on the proposed new National Commission sharing equal power with American and National Leagues.

The American League executive said the management of baseball should remain in the hands of men who have given their lives to its development, declaring they were better qualified to cleanse the sport of its crookedness than anyone outside of the game. He declared his opposition to the Lasker plan and urged the minor leagues to remain neutral in the major-league fight if they decided not to endorse the proposal, to appoint a representative committee in an effort to bring about harmony.

How Lasker Plan Started. After revealing the "inside story" of the situation which resulted in the break of the major leagues, Attorney Miller explained his opposition to the adoption of the Lasker plan. He said that the plan had its conception in the idea that "something must be done with the public" to offset the scandal revealed in the world series of 1919.

"I think the baseball-loving public is as hard to 'bunk' as the average baseball man," Attorney Miller said. "And if we are going to reorganize baseball let us reorganize it on a sound, sane and practical basis that will get us somewhere and not with the idea of deceiving the public into believing that we are doing something that we are not doing."

"The first conception of the Lasker plan is that a commission of eminent and distinguished gentlemen who stand so high in the estimation of the public that the very mention of their names will carry with it an evidence of good faith, be selected to take charge of organized baseball. Do you think those men could come anywhere near stamping gambling out of baseball than you men who have been in the game all your lives? We think that the men who are to constitute the supreme court of baseball, or at least a majority of them, should be practical baseball men."

Minors Take No Action. The minor leagues adjourned without taking any action on the recommendation of the American League officials, but the sentiment prevailed last night that the Lasker plan would receive no consideration from the minors at this time. August Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Nationals and former chairman of the National Commission, was to address the minor leagues today to explain the stand of the proponents of the Lasker plan.

The political shakedown in the National Association of Minor Leagues failed to materialize yesterday when the league presidents elected officers. John H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y.

JOE TINKER SELLS HIS COLUMBUS CLUB STOCK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 10.—Sale of the controlling interests of the Columbus club of the American Association, owned by Thomas E. Wilson, the Chicago packer, was completed here today. Joseph B. Tinker, president of the club, sold his holding to Wilson, giving the Chicagoan control of the 75 per cent of the stock. Tinker will remain in the club.

He will make his home in the West, and assisted Tinker financially when the former major league shortstop purchased the Columbus club four years ago. Although hotel lobbies buzzed with rumors of trades and deals, no deal was completed. Leslie Mann, out of the St. Louis Nationals, was sold to the St. Louis club, according to an announcement by Branch Rickey of the St. Louis club. Alexander "Duke" Bailey of the Indianapolis American Association club was sold to the Nashville club of the Southern Association.

One Day's Developments in the Baseball War

Major league clubs agree to meet in Chicago Nov. 16 to discuss differences.

Minor leagues hear arguments of Garry Herrmann and Ban Johnson, but take no action. Majority prefer hands off.

Minors informally say they will keep hands off in war and outlook is they will not adopt Lasker plan.

Phil Ball says Cardinals will not be interfered with in their use of Sportsman's Park, if the war goes on in earnest.

Hank O'Day is instructed to take steps looking to the formation of a staff of umpires for the New National League.

Alfred Austrian, representing the Chicago White Sox, holds that the three dissenting members of the American League could be persuaded to join the new league.

John H. Martin of Memphis, Tenn., president of the Southern Association, was elected vice president. Preliminary to the election the league presidents discussed the advisability of requesting State Legislatures to pass a strict law providing for prison sentences for persons convicted of bribing a baseball player or to "throw" games. The proposal was referred to a Committee on Resolutions, which meets today.

Sexton was a candidate to succeed Secretary Farrell, but his supporters failed to muster enough votes.

Pikeway Machine Drilled to Check Lewis and Travis

Washington Sees a Chance if It Can Perfect Defense Against Two Missouri Stars.

"Chuck" Lewis and "Brick" Travis carry the greater part of the Missouri University football punch, this year, and Lewis and Travis will be the cynosure of all Pikeaway eyes on Rollins Field, Saturday.

These daily practices at Francis Field come under the heading of regular workouts, but they are more dedicated to the construction of a defensive against the aforementioned Tigers than any other thing.

When a freshman makes a run, a coach can be heard to yell: "There goes Lewis." When a forward is through the line or endangering a stop, there is a chorus, "Get Travis."

Washington feels that if it can stop this pair, the badly maltreated 1920 varsity will have more than made up for all its failures.

The local institution holds two victories over the Boone County School during the past 15 years. The first one came in 1908 and the second in 1915.

Travis the Tiger Spark Plug. Travis is a tremendous man and a great line charger; but he is more than that. He carries with him the Tiger spirit of corps. When he is in the game, Miller's men are a fighting lot; when he is gone the Bengals are as tame as cats.

Lewis is, of course, the individual star. If the forwards let him reach the scrimmage line he will be good for a five to 10 yard gain; at least; while there is always a chance of his getting away for a touchdown run. Unless the Washington safety men improve their tackling and spillage tactics, Lewis will run wild. He is the type that takes the slightest advantage and capitalizes it. White of Ames and Clayton of Drake were often hit by local players, but kept going. It would be ruinous to give Lewis such chances.

Besides this, he is the punter, a man who can average over 40 yards, can pass well, and run from fake formations. Lewis is undoubtedly the ace of the offense. He is ever alert and must be watched every minute of play. If the Pikers allow their morale to sag at intervals, as was the case last Saturday, they might as well give up all ideas of even a close game.

Scouts' Reports Encouraging. Washington scouts state that the Missouri team did not look very well against the Kansas Aggies. The tackling was slovenly for the first time this year, the usual Tiger interference was absent, and the play was spiritless.

It is generally hinted that Missouri started on the skids with the Drake game, but being a halfhearted team, they came along with an easy victory and took some of the fight out of the Gold and Black. One week was not enough to recuperate and consequently the Aggies looked very good. If Missouri is coming back for the Kansas game, it seems certain that the recovery will be evident by Saturday.

Yesterday's workout was of two hours duration, the greater part of it being used for blocking, charging and practice at running behind interference. The "frosh" were brought out for scrimmage late in the afternoon and had but little success.

The new defensive combination of Kraeche on end, Shanley at halfback and Potthoff at tackle was working and looked good considering that it was new. Bax and Orisnick were kept on the sidelines because of their injuries. Both will be ready tomorrow and probably will start against Missouri.

FRENCH TRACK STARS INVITED TO COMPETE IN PENN RELAY MEET

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—Dr. George W. Orton, manager of the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival, announced yesterday that he had sent a formal invitation to the athletic directors at the University of Paris inviting a French track team to compete in the relay meet at Franklin Field next April.

Dr. Orton suggested that a complete team be sent, but should that prove impossible, he urged the French institution to send relay teams for the one and two mile events, particularly, and for any other events it wished to enter.

It is the first time a French team has been invited to compete in the meet.

HORNSBY TO LEAD NINE IN FLORIDA WINTER LEAGUE

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 10.—Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, leading batter of the National League last season, "Bubbles" Hargrave of the Cincinnati Reds and Al Rothorn of the St. Louis Browns are among the major league stars who will play baseball this winter with the Florida Coast Winter League. A number of minor players will also be in the lineup of the Tampa, Tarpon Springs, Sarasota and St. Petersburg teams. Hargrave will be in charge of the schedule calls for an 84-game season, opening Nov. 15 and closing Feb. 22.

Hornsby is captain of the Sarasota team. Hargrave will be in charge of the St. Petersburg club, while Rothorn will be one of the Tarpon Springs pitchers. Ed Foley, scout for the Boston Sox, will manage the Tampa club. Gilbert Freeman of Tampa has been chosen president, secretary and treasurer of the temporary organization of the league.

Entries Close Tonight. Entries for the annual classic close at midnight tonight, and all those not in the mails at that time will be turned down. M. J. Locker, the Mid-West secretary, will be here the end of the week, and at that time the complete schedule will be drawn up. Frank Heide, secretary of the local tournament company, stated that the dates of Nov. 20, 27 and 28 already had been filled with only out-of-town teams rolling.

Jimmy Smith, the world's champion, will be the first visiting star to show his skill on the drives. Smith is booked to roll in the five-man event, Nov. 21, and the doubles and singles the following day.

Five out-of-town quintets filed their entry yesterday. They were the Mitchell Tailors of Port Huron, Mich., with Jim Doolittle as captain; Oklahoma City, T. H. Oliver, captain; Horlicks Racine team of Racine, Wis., and the Coca Cola and Central Alleys of Indianapolis. The latter also asked for two more reservations for the same date.

More Than 150 Local Teams. The big drive for the local entries will be on today. Local pin topplers have been slow in sending in their blanks, although more than 150 five-man teams are pledged. Many of the leagues have signified their intentions of entering their entire quota. Several others will put in two or three of their strongest combinations, while others have not been heard from.

Next Sunday's schedule: Innisfalls vs. Scullins; Ben Millers vs. St. Louis Screw Co.

CANADIANS WILL BUILD SCHOONER FOR NEXT RACE

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—An announcement was made today of plans to build by popular subscription a fishing vessel to race in next year's international schooner regatta off Halifax harbor. Native Nova Scotians will design and build the vessel, which will be used as a regular fishing schooner, but which will be designed particularly with next year's race in view.

Kirkwood Plays Webster. The annual football struggle between Kirkwood and Webster High Schools of the county league are scheduled to meet in their annual battle at Francis Field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

University football practice from the sidelines. Connors had expected to be ready, but was advised to wait until the end of the week before returning to scrimmage. Doehr is out until the Washington game.

Yesterday's efforts included practice against a left-handed forward and Potthoff at tackle was working and looked good considering that it was new. Bax and Orisnick were kept on the sidelines because of their injuries. Both will be ready tomorrow and probably will start against Missouri.

Connors on Hospital List. Capt. "Bus" Connors and "Tiny" Doehr watched yesterday's St. Louis game.

Midwest Bowlers To Vote on Change In Size of Teams

Proposition to Be Presented for Six Men or Four Men to Replace Five-Man System.

Bowlers attending the annual Midwest tournament, scheduled to start on the Washington alleys Nov. 19, will get a chance to vote on a plan for changing the annual feature from the five-man, two-man and individual events. There has been a great deal of talk on this subject and in order to get the bowlers' views, ballots will be passed out during the rolling here.

The five-man event is generally opposed because either one of the men must be omitted from the doubles, or else the sixth man is unable to compete in the team.

Bowlers will be given a chance to vote, whether they favor six-man, three-man and individual, or what would be even speedier, the four-man, two-man and singles.

Following the tournament, the figures will be announced and probably will be put to a vote of the officials.

TEN-ROUND BOXING BILL WILL BE PRESENTED TO ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—A bill to legalize boxing in Illinois was ready to be submitted to the City Council today for approval before being offered to the Legislature. Alderman Joseph O. Kostner is author of the bill which as a whole is similar to the one drawn up by the Alderman last year. It provides for a State Athletic Commission of three men to be appointed by the Governor. The bills shall not be longer than 10 rounds, and six-glove gloves must be worn.

According to friends of Alderman Kostner, the bill will go to the Judiciary Committee without action today, as the Council and Judiciary Committees are familiar with the bill. It is expected to be ready for the State Legislature in two weeks. Governor Small is said to be in favor of a fair bill and boxing enthusiasts are hopeful for its passage.

Lawyer Named Trainer. The University of Missouri has announced the appointment of Dr. Martin Pike Lawler as trainer of the Tigers' football team. Lawler was trainer of the Browns from 1918 to 1919. He also served in a like capacity with Connie Mack's Athletics and the Boston Red Sox.

ARMY OFFICERS TO PLAY 11-YEAR-OLD CHESS STAR

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Twenty professors and army officers of the United States Military Academy will match wits at chess tonight in 20 simultaneous games against Samuel Raschewski, the boy chess prodigy who arrived in this country from Poland a few days ago. Colonel, Captains and Lieutenants, the academy's crack chess wizards, were chosen to play against the 11-year-old player, who has amazed Europe with his skill.

Fight Clubs Will Hold Five Shows In Next Six Days

Three of Yale Cripples Will Get Into Lineup Against Princeton

Armory and South Broadway
A. C. Arrange the Most Interesting Features.

KAISER TO MEET DONZA
Former Amateur Stars, Now Professionals, Will Battle Monday Evening.

By John E. Wray.

Local fight clubs are all springing for a place in the limelight, this month. With the Armory show over, new fight features remain to be decided within the next six days. The next event on the card will be the oft-renewed Pete Macklin-Charley Silver series, now nearing double figures in the number of chapters. The rugged Pete and the shifty Charley will meet each other at the Southern Athletic Club, tomorrow night.

The next event following this will bring together Banker John Kern and Charley Stapp, two rugged fighters, at the Ring Athletic Club, Friday night. Kern owns a bone-crushing wallop and Stapp a lot of rugged virtues and considerable experience. The same night Sam Dixon will put on a dark-town fight show at the Lafayette Club.

Monday night John "Pewee" Kaiser will again dawn on the local fans, with whom he has become somewhat of an idol. He will oppose the New Orleans boy, Ashton Donza, former national amateur champion in the bantam division, at the Armory Monday.

Tuesday night will find the South Broadway entertaining Patsy Flanagan and Red Watson, another New Orleans product. While none of the cards contained other than secondary ring celebrities, two of the main events mentioned carry unusual interest for St. Louisans. These are the Kaiser-Donza bout and the Watson-Flanagan imbroglio.

Donza Beaten by Watson.
Donza and Kaiser are both amateur graduates. Donza, having held a national title, was esteemed a good professional prospect until he ran up against the aggressive looking little terrier, Red Watson, a 17-year-old Crescent City professional. Red himself was only a recent graduate from the amateur ranks when he fought Donza; but he showed class in that bout and flattened the amateur title holder quickly. Pewee has fewer professional bouts than Watson, but he is a boy of exceptional class. He, for a time, was "off his feed," of late, owing to a change in his managerial relations, but he is regaining his morale, now. If Pewee is in form, Donza will have to step out with considerable horsepower to avoid being flattened.

Watson is meeting a fairly good boy in Patsy Flanagan and no doubt will have to show better class than he expects, to beat the Mound City bantam.

Ready to Box Regan, Nov. 24.
One of the interesting announcements made yesterday was that Kid Bandy and Kid Regan probably would battle for the nickname championship of the city—about the only class into which they can be fitted—on Nov. 24 at the Coliseum.

Kid Regan (Charley Crouse) weighs 154 pounds and is too heavy to be a featherweight; weighs about 127 pounds and is too light to be a lightweight. They are now trying to settle on a weight agreement of 126 pounds at 2 o'clock. Regan, once the idol of the fans, has come back splendidly, according to Tommy Brammel, who saw him fight recently at Beardtown. Regan is covering more than former and not taking everything launched at the point of the chin, as he was his custom up to the time Pete Herman and Joe Lynch rang the bell for knockouts.

Regan will be conceding a lot of power and rugged vitality to Bandy, even if the latter comes down in weight. Bandy is a tough foe. The only bar to the signing of articles last night was the agreement on one pound of flesh.

Herman Offered Record Parole.
Pietro Gulatto, who, as Pete Herman, has been working the no-decision fight game, told the public for a lot of money in recent years, is to meet early Jimmy Wilkie or Joe Lynch early in December at the International Sporting Club of New York.

The announcement is unusually interesting from the fact that Herman, so his local representative told the Post-Dispatch, will receive the largest sum paid any fighter in the history of the American ring, save only for the exception of Jess Willard at Toledo, when the Pottawatomie plant received $100,000 for taking that Dempsey beating.

The amount to be given this man was made public, but as the best previous lump sum was $80,000, paid to Jack Johnson at Reno for beating Jeffries, it can be conjectured that Herman's edge is to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $70,000.

While originally was contemplated as Herman's opponent, but as he has raised his demand it is doubtful if he is to be accommodated, and Joe Lynch, who is ambitious to wrest the title from Herman, may be given the plum.

Herman has not pleased fight circles of late. It is believed that he has been distracted by the strength of his right hand and has been saving it, fighting only in flashes. His fight here with Burman indicated, however, that he is "slipping" and that the first time he is forced to come out of his shell he will lose his title.

In the two games played by the Ben Millers and Innisfalls this season, neither side has scored a goal.

Capt. Callahan, Acosta and Aldrich Are Sure to Play—Dickens Is Lost Until Harvard Battle—Coach Jones Is Undecided as to Quarterback.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 10.—Yale's football players are numbered. The numerals, in immaculate white, stood out against the dark blue jerseys as the men came tumbling out of the buses and spread out over the gridiron in the Yale bowl yesterday afternoon.

Tad Jones made the decision early in the season to number the players in the two big games, and, following the announcement Monday no time was wasted in having the jerseys prepared. This simply means that the 50,000 who look on when Yale and Princeton clash on Saturday will enjoy the game with added zest, because they will be able to identify the players who are running with the ball or making tackles.

Needless to say, Yale's progressive stand in joining Princeton in this minor reform will be greatly appreciated and no doubt applauded.

Jones Real Taskmaster.
Next to the tacking evidence that the number was an assured fact, the thing which impressed most yesterday was the mental condition of the men on top of the "make or break" policy which Tad Jones adopted when he took up the burdens of head coach last September.

They are working for Jones with every atom of their strength and seem to understand that he has become a taskmaster only because the necessity was great. The Yale eleven this fall has been handicapped in its development because of a number of minor injuries, while Jones and his assistants have been held up in the delicate process of putting on the necessary finish because of the fact that Capt. Callahan, Dickens, Acosta and "Mac" Aldrich among others have been out of the game so much.

These four are quite necessary parts of the machine, and while Callahan, Acosta and Aldrich took part in the scrimmage yesterday—their first in some time—all three showed the lack of hard work. Little hope is expressed that Dickens, probably the best tackle on the squad, will start against Princeton, but he will be ready for Harvard.

Capt. Callahan and Acosta, however, will surely play the guard positions against the Tigers, and Aldrich is sure to be used in the back field, even if he does not start.

The other forwards will be Dillworth and Eli Cutler, ends; Walker and MacKay, tackles, and Harry Cross, center. It can be stated positively that Callahan will go back to center this year; that is, when his team is on the offense, but will play a roving center on the defense. Cross or Galvin will do all the passing back.

With the Princeton game only four days off, Tad Jones admits freely that he is undecided as to the makeup of his back field, and the chief uncertainty lies in the choice of quarterback between Thorne, Murphy and "Pido" Kempton. He may solve it by starting both with Frank Kelley and Ralph Jordan as the other two.

If he had decided to hold one and finally picks Kempton to run the team, Aldrich, Kelley and Jordan will be the backs.

Cross Was Raw Recruit.
If, on the other hand, Murphy gets first call, "Howie" Campbell will start instead of Aldrich as a running mate to Kelley and Jordan. The two last named appear to be fixtures. Jones seems to think mighty well of Kelley, and his play yesterday justified that feeling.

Harry Cross is a new-found center and shows to what lengths the coaches had to go in finding a man for this important post after the injury to Capt. Callahan in the Boston College game. He is the heavy set, thick type, and never played any college football until four or five weeks ago. For this reason he lacks finish, but his passing is remarkably accurate.

It is interesting to know that Cross' father played center for Brink Thorne's team far back in 1895 and it was some team. So the son at this late date is following in the footsteps of his father. He is a junior, so will have one more year if he earns his spurs against Princeton and Harvard.

Rolla Undefeated In Race for Title
Missouri Miners, Favorites in M. I. A. A., Have Only One More Conference Game.

FULLAN, Mo., Nov. 10.—The Rolla Miners and the Missouri Wesleyans favorites in the torrid race for championship football honors in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, are now leading the other aggregations with a perfect percentage.

The Miners vanquished the Missouri Wesleyans hung the crepe on the Kirkville Teachers, up to last Friday at the head of the percentage column.

The Miners have a much easier road to travel to keep their scutcheon aloft than has the Coach Davis aggregation of Cameron. Rolla has but one more conference battle and that is next Saturday with the Drury College Panthers of Springfield and the set to will be staged on the Rolla gridiron. Rolla beat Warrensburg last week by a score of 17 to 0, and Warrensburg the week previous trounced Drury, 28 to 0.

O'DOWD DEFEATS SMITH IN 15-ROUND CONTEST
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Mike O'Dowd whipped Jeff Smith in their 15-round fight at Madison Square Garden last night after a bruising, smashing battle. The judges, Charles Thorley and William Muldoon, disagreed at the end of the fifteenth round and the referee, Harry Skopok of Brooklyn, gave the decision to O'Dowd.

The award was greeted with a tempest of cheers. Really there should not have been any doubt as to the winner, for O'Dowd, except in the earlier rounds, had much the better of the bout. He fought his man in submission in the first 10 rounds and the last five found Smith continually holding and clinching. The voice of the crowd was for a draw. Muldoon decided in O'Dowd's favor.

Smith might have done better if he could have kept at the range, but the unyielding former middleweight champion wouldn't let him. O'Dowd kept up a series of rushes from going to the end of the same time displayed cleverness in ducking and sidestepping.

A capacity crowd was present.

EXCHANGE, BUT RECOVER RAPIDLY
Irregularity Relieves Long Unbroken Weakness—Sugar Down Half Cent, but Money Market Still Tight.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:
"Extreme irregularity replaced on the New York Stock Exchange today the steady weakness of the previous day. Prices broke sharply from time to time and a number went below previous lowest levels, but recovery from these points was rather vigorous. This show of firmness was aided by the recovery in wheat and sugar, and the excellent market. On the other hand, indications in business circles were that the downward movement of prices of certain commodities was preceding unchecked, the most striking instance today being the reduction of 1/2 cent in the price of sugar, announced by the leading refiners. There were no signs of relaxation in the money market. Slightly increased rates were noted for time loans on 'industrial collateral' while the call loan rate was again 9 per cent.

Prices Better at Opening.
"Prices at the opening were slightly higher, but a downward reaction immediately followed. From that point the movement was wholly irregular. After some recovery there was fresh selling in the afternoon, motor, sugar and shipping shares showing the greatest weakness. Omission of the extra dividend of 1/2 cent on the common stocks of the American Sugar Refining Co. was an influence in depressing the price of that stock. In the last hour a fairly vigorous recovery occurred, but it failed to carry the majority of prices up to the level of yesterday's closing.

"Decrease of 538,000 tons during October in the Steel Corporation's unfilled contracts, as shown in today's report was about what Wall Street had expected would occur. This very considerable reduction, which leaves the tonnage at $3,337,000 reflects the falling of incoming business and the consequent reduction of movement of products, whether only recently completed or drawn from the accumulations which it was impossible, on account of freight congestion to move last summer. The swing of these 'unfilled orders' over a long period of time has been expected to increase requirements. From that time there was an almost uninterrupted decline until the end of May, 1919, when bookings were only 3,432,000 tons. The 'after-summer boom' which began last year then carried total contracts up to 11,118,000 tons at the end of last July, when the present downward trend began.

Exchange Rates Recover.
"Exchange rates on European currencies recovered with the exception of the franc, which again showed weakness. Remittance of French funds to this country by way of London, for purposes of entirely clear, has apparently been an influence in increasing the depreciation of the franc. Paris exchange, which in particular advanced sharply today, quotation being fully 2 cents above that of yesterday and 4 1/2 cents above the price reached on Monday, which was the lowest figure since the end of last February. The foreign exchange, like the stock market, it may be seen, is better with the easing of the money market, which will relieve owners both of foreign drafts and of securities of the pressing necessity to realize on their holdings."

Foreign Exchange and Domestic Money

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Business in foreign exchange was on a fairly large scale, but with little activity. The dollar was steady, with a slight advance, which was further advanced by the closing of the London market. The dollar was steady, with a slight advance, which was further advanced by the closing of the London market.

Wall Street News and Comment—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—In most of the markets outside the Stock Exchange the predominating tendency today was toward recovery. The downward movement. Sterling exchange had a particularly violent recovery. Right at the opening of business it was quoted above $3.40, which meant a recovery from Monday's low of 1 cent in the pound. This was very plain proof that the downward plunge in the exchanges had for the time being been overdone. Rates on Paris and Rome, while they did not have as sharp a reaction as rates on London, were decidedly stronger. The same symptoms of recuperation were likewise apparent in the commodity markets. No very positive deductions could be drawn from the upturn in cotton and grain, which may have been caused by a temporary recovery. It did fit in with much of the other evidence of the day, which went to show that pessimism over the general financial and commercial situation had been carried too far.

Though the early part of the stocks were extremely irregular, there were still numerous points of recovery. Copper shares were freely offered and they all either equalled or exceeded their low prices of the previous day. The market here, of course, was that with copper at or under 18 cents a pound, there was no profit in copper mining for anybody, and most concerns chose to sell, while the market was at a low level. On the other hand, the sharp reduction in the October output of the porphyry com-

The market here, of course, was that with copper at or under 18 cents a pound, there was no profit in copper mining for anybody, and most concerns chose to sell, while the market was at a low level. On the other hand, the sharp reduction in the October output of the porphyry com-

INCREASED BUYING GIVES CURB A BETTER TONE

Material Advance Recorded in Standard Oil Shares—Midwest Refining Up Also.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A decidedly better tone was shown on the curb market today, although there still were signs of nervousness in some quarters. Whereas many had expected pressure, there was actually an accumulation of buying orders overnight. This, coupled with supporting orders from insiders and covering of shorts on a substantial scale, caused some substantial upturns during the forenoon. The higher prices brought out some selling later in the session and relieved the market. The tone was much improved as compared with earlier in the week.

Bids for the Standard Oil shares were advanced materially, but previously prevailing offering levels were put up, so that few transactions were recorded. The Indiana stock was traded in at a gain of about 15 points.

Midwest Refining also was in good demand after initial sales, 2 points under the closing of last night, and moved up about 6 points. International Petroleum was heavy at the start, but recovered later. Simms Petroleum moved up a small fraction.

General Asphalt moved upward on fair transactions. United Retail Candy rose a fraction, and a steady tone was displayed in United States Steamship, Sweets Co. United Profit Sharing, Conley Tinfold, North American Pulp and Paper and several others.

Less interest was shown in the bond list and transactions were small. The price of stock was generally steady, with a slight decline in small shares. Changes in the others were confined to fractions.

There was moderate activity in the grain list, but price changes were small.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

NO GOOD.
We read that folks who like to tope
Have lately had a goodly boost to
Their moribund, but breathing hope
Of getting lit the way they used to.
For if a doctor will agree
To issue the required directions,
A man can get a bun or spree
Through subcutaneous injections.

And yet somehow we do not think
The methods will have much attraction,
Because a subcutaneous drink
Don't promise one much satisfaction.
The thrill that utters the throat
On hoisting in a fix of toddy,
Will not be noticed in remote
And nerveless sections of one's body.

And while the law may see no harm
For doctors, gowned and capped and solemn,
To serve you highballs through the arm,
Or half way up the spinal column,
You'll miss the mirror and the bar,
The frost upon the glass congealing,
And your imbibing will be far
From bringing back the same old feeling.

To get a jag on in a cot,
While round about one doctors hover,
To be a subcutaneous sot
Beneath an antiseptic cover,
Though that way he may get a stew
As quick, or even quicker
It's not a thing that's likely to Restore the old-time taste for liquor.

DECEIVING.
Some dealers neglect to add the word "OUT" to their ready to wear clothes advertisements.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.
Two years ago the cry was "Ships!
ships! ships!" Now it's "Cargoes!
cargoes! cargoes!"

Question of Time.

"Public schools are democratic places," said a prominent educator at a banquet the other night: "surprisingly so at times."
"The daughter of a veteran prison warden was having an argument with one of her schoolmates."
"I'm not going to play with you any more," said the warden's daughter; "your father is no good."
"He's better than yours!" came back from the other child.
"He is not!"
"He is, too! Your father has been in the prison for 10 years—and my father's only in for six months!"—
New York Evening Post.

The Dread Alternative.

The Harlequin: I'm tired of these breakneck stunts. Haven't you an other part for me?
The Director: Nothing but a lover's part, playing opposite your wife.
The Star: Lead me back to the cliff.—Detroit News.

Unkind.

First Waist Model: Something is preying on my mind.
Second Waist Model: Well, its prayers won't be answered.—Detroit News.

Within the Law.

The father was angry at a group of boys who had trespassed on his property. To the youngster who carried a gun, he said, "Don't see that sign there? Can't you read?"
and he pointed to a notice which ran: "No Hunting Allowed."
"That's all right, master," replied the boy, glancing at the sign. "We kin read—but this here is an air gun!"—Boston Transcript.

No Escape.

Diner: You charged me more for this steak than you used to.
Restaurant Manager: I have to pay more for it. The price of meat has gone up.
"And the steak is smaller than it used to be."
"That, of course, is on account of the scarcity of beef."—Buffalo Commercial.

The Class Struggle.

Mrs. Leigh Borah: Patrick, we should buy a season ticket for the opera.
Mr. Leigh Borah: Go 'way wid yet
Shure an' I jist found a movie house that charges five dollars. It's jist as cheap, an' besides it's understandable.—Life.

"SAY, POP!"—WELL, E-R-R, NOW, YOU SEE, POP HESITATES TO ANSWER—By C. M. PAYNE

NOW THE OLD MAN WOULD RATHER HAVE HER GO OUT—By RUBE GOLDBERG

A Good Sign.

"Did her father give you any encouragement?"
"Well, he asked me what I thought of his new motor car."
"Go after the girl. You have nothing to worry about."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Let the Wedding Bells Ring Out

Appreciation.

"Has your wife a sense of humor?"
"I think so," replied Mr. Meek-ton. "The funnier a gown looks the more she is willing to pay for it."—Washington Star.

His Feelings Injured.

Judge: Were you ever in jail before?
Veteran Criminal: Now, listen, your honor, do you think I am a child?—U-I-K.

Just So.

"Don't let your wife nag you."
"Can't help myself."
"Are you a man or a mouse?"
"Guess I'm a man. If I was a mouse my wife would be afraid of me."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Hardest Part.

Judge: Did your wife hit you with a piece of brick-a-brac?
Mulligan: Devil a brack about it,
yer honor, just the brick.—Boston Transcript.

Admiration.

"You seem very attentive to that soap box-orator."
"Yes," replied the man who worries about fuel. "He is standing on the makings of a fine bunch of kind-ling wood."—Washington Star.

Home Truths.

"I suppose you want to discuss the matter with your wife?"
"Dear me, no! My wife and I never discuss things—the most we can ever do is dispute about them."
—Boston Transcript.

A Stickler.

"They say Wombat is a man who is insistent about getting his money's worth."
"Yes, he'd put in a vacation counting the Thousand Islands."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
